PROVINCE OF ULSTER COUNTY, IRELAND.

The tracing of our ancestors in Ireland is almost impossible since many old wills and many Irish Church records were destroyed by fire in 1922.

We do know that we are not descended from the Lees of Virginia, since their line has been traced by each generation and authenticated by the Lee Society of Virginia.

Our coat of arms differs from the Virginia Lees. The Virginia Lees came from England. All the English Lees use the same coat of arms. All the Irish Lees use another.

Most of this information has been obtained from Quaker Church records in America.

According to the Quaker records, our ancestors came from the Province of Ulster, Derry County, Ireland, evidently seeking religious freedom.

This religion was very strict. Permission had to be granted, by the Church, on all matters. There was definitely no drinking, no dancing. Several of our ancestors were "turned out" of the Church, temporarily, for this reason (They enjoyed both these pastimes).

The Quakers also believed in non-violence. One of our ancestors was "turned out" from the Church because he struck a man after having been struck first, for several times. (I guess one does get tired "of turning the other cheek", even a Quaker). There is no mention in the records of Quakers being in a war.

William Lee, II son of William and Jane Lee was born in Derry County in 1730. There is no record of William Lee, II immigrating to America. It is assumed he came to America in a colony or group which was customary, and did not list passengers.

The Meeting Houses or "Friends Meetings" as they are called are still active in North Carolina around Greensboro and Asheboro. They have large well kept cemeteries. We visited several of these. The markers of many of the old ones were of slate or some sort of stone and the reading was not distinguishable, or had long since disappeared.

We contacted the ministers of some of these "Friends Meetings". Old cemetery records were checked, but the oldest have been destroyed or misplaced. Many deaths were never recorded.

Our forefathers were active members of the "Friends Meetings", holding offices on several occasions.

WILLIAM LEE, son of William and Jane Lee of Ireland married Susanna Pike, daughter of John and Abigail Pike. Susanna Lee was born October 27, 1737 in Frederick County, Virginia. William and Susanna had twelve children. Their first eight children were born in Orange County, North Carolina, the other four were born in Chatham County, North Carolina. Listed below are their children and their dates of birth:

John	5/16 - 1759
William	8/21 - 1760
Abigail	3/20 - 1762
Isaac	3/2 - 1764
Samuel	12/21 - 1766
John (2nd)	12/21 - 1768
Jane	11/13 - 1769
Martha	9/2 - 1772
Michael	8/5 - 1774
Ann	1/5 - 1776
Nathan	9/26 - 1777
Ephraim	8/30 - 1780

NOTE: There are two sons of William and Susanna named "JOHN". Years ago, when a child died, it was a custom to give a second child the same name. For this reason, it is thought the first son of William and Susanna died. (There is no record to prove this).

Four sons of William Lee and Susanna Lee moved West. Three others, Samuel, William and John, with their families moved to Springfield, Indiana, while Nathan and his family moved to Ohio.

Abigail married a (?) Cros. He was a non-Quaker and she was disowned by the Quaker Church.

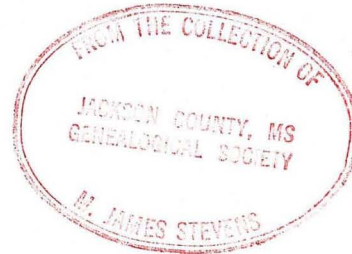

Ephraim Lee, the youngest child of William and Susanna Lee, married Sara Henshaw in 1807. They had seven children. In 1918, Ephraim and Sarah were made elders of the Church at the Newberry Meeting in North Carolina.

Isaac Lee, the fourth child of William and Susanna, married Patience (?) in 1787. This is our lineage. Patience did not belong to the Quaker Church and Isaac was disowned for marriage out of the unity. In 1791, Patience and Isaac asked for re-admittance to the Church and it was granted. At this time, Isaac and Patience were living in Randolph County, North Carolina. Their eight children were raised Quakers. Between the years of 1791 and 1826, they moved their membership from one Meeting House to another. Their children are:

Mary
Susanna
William
Rachel
Abigail
Elizabeth
Isaac, Jr.
Joseph

There are no records showing that the children of Isaac and Patience moved from Randolph County, North Carolina to other parts of the country.

Isaac Lee, Jr. was born about 1798 or 1799. This date was taken from the

North Carolina 1850 Census record. There are no church records of Isaac, Jr. until 1821. On March 26, 1821, Isaac Lee, Jr. and Christina ^{Becker} / - were married. Christina was a non-Quaker and Isaac, Jr. was disowned by the Church for this marriage. In 1824, Isaac, Jr. asked for re-admittance to the Marlboro Friends Meeting in Randolph, North Carolina.

Records in the Asheboro Courthouse show that Isaac, Jr. and Christina owned and sold land in Randolph County.

The last Church records of Isaac Lee, Jr. are in the late 1860's. He was disowned from the Church for not attending the regular monthly meetings.

There are no records of Christina's birth or death, since she never became a Quaker, very little was ever recorded about her.

Isaac Lee, Jr. died in 1881. At the time of his death, he was living with his only daughter, Eunice.

Isaac, Jr. and Christina's four children born in Randolph County are:

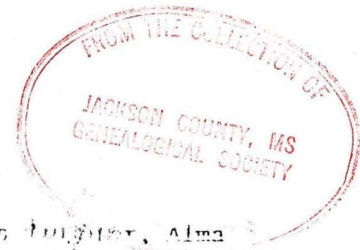

William Branson Lee born 1822
Ephraim Lee born 1826
Eunice Lee born 1832
Jeremiah Lee born 1834

The North Carolina Register of Deeds shows that Eunice Lee owned land in Randolph County but very little could be found about her.

Ephraim remained a Quaker. Church records show he was married to Keziah Frazier, daughter of Jacob and Penia Frazier. Keziah Lee died in 1862. She and Ephraim had five children. In 1866, Ephraim was married, a second time, to Bridget (?). They had two children.

Jeremiah Lee died in 1913. He is buried in Laurel Hill, N. C. in a small family cemetery with his third wife, Ella / McPherson Lee. His daughter, Alma Lee Alford, and her husband, Archie B. Alford and Lacy Herbert Lee, Jeremiah's son, are all buried in this family cemetery. Jeremiah's first wife, Isabelle Douglas, is buried near Red Bluff, South Carolina in a small family cemetery. At the time of her death, they were living at Red Bluff.

WILLIAM BRANSON LEE - Lived in Randolph County from the time of his birth in 1822 until 1850. In the spring of 1850, William B. sold the land he owned in Randolph County and moved to South Carolina. He bought land near Clio, South Carolina known as Red Bluff. It was here that he built the first woolen mill. The wool was dyed in the stream where leaves had colored the water. Between the years of 1856 and 1865 this piece of land changed hands several times. It was left to Isabell Douglas Lee by her father, Duncan Douglas. Isabell D. Lee was the wife of Jeremiah Lee, brother to William B. After the Civil War, the Red Bluff land and house was sold for back taxes at auction to Alexander McRae. In 1930, the house burned.

Between the years of 1850 and 1863, William B. Lee owned 1900 acres of land. Most of this was sold before the end of the Civil War. His acreage consisted of land from the North Carolina line near Maxton to Clio and Blenheim, S. C. One acre was given for the building of Parnasus Methodist Church. Part of this land was used for raising horses sold to the Confederacy.

William B. Lee was married to Sara Spears between 1850 and 1853 (marriage records were not recorded by the State until 1912). No Quaker records on this marriage.

Sara was born in 1836, the daughter of William and Nancy Spears in the Hebron or Harmony Section of Marlboro County.

Sara and William lived in Marlboro County for a number of years, moving to Alfordsville, North Carolina about 1870 - 1881. Alfordsville is a small community across the South Carolina line near Maxton.

In 1882, William B. with his wife, Sara, and ten of their twelve children joined a wagon train, leaving Marlboro County for Texas. Loading their wagons with their most valuable personal possessions, gold from the sale of their lands and a small trunk of Confederate money, they set out, hoping to find fertile land and build a new home in strange surroundings.

On arriving in Texas, William found land that he thought would be just right for farming. He was pleased and immediately secured an option on a large tract in what is now the heart of Dallas. He expected to return the next morning to inspect the land further. However, it rained during the night. When the morning came he hurried to hitch up his horse and wagon, return to town and close the deal. When he arrived in town he was dismayed to find his wagon sticking in black mud up to the axles - This was not fit land for making cotton (Rich oil land). William knew only the soils of his home land.

Later, William bought land in ^{Zank} Van / County and settled in the small community of Wills Point, east of Dallas, Texas.

William B. Lee died in 1887 and is buried in Wills Point Texas Cemetery.

Sara S. Lee died in 1907 and is buried at Small Cemetery near Wills Point, Texas.

William B. and Sara S. Lee's children are:

Mary Ann born 1854 in South Carolina
William S. born 6/27 - 1855 in South Carolina
James M. born about 1856 in South Carolina
Hector A. born about 1859 in South Carolina

Yancy R. born about 1861 in South Carolina
Mae Ann born about 1863 in South Carolina
Angelina born about 1865 in South Carolina
Nancy D. born about 1868 in South Carolina
Robert E. born about 1870 in North Carolina
Lanisa born about 1871 in North Carolina
Green W. born about 1876 in North Carolina
Alice M. born about 1878 in North Carolina

Mary Ann Lee, oldest child of William B. and Sara was born in June, 1854 in Marlboro County near Clio, S. C. In 1882, Mary Ann married James (Jim) Brigman from North Carolina near Lumberton. They had three children:

Sallie born 1880
John A. born May, 1884
Yancy V., born August, 1885

Mary Ann died in 1901 and is buried in Odom Cemetery between Lumberton and Red Springs, N. C. James Brigman is buried in Burnt Swamp Cemetery in the same community as Odom Cemetery. There is no marker to either grave.

Mary Ann Lee and William S. Lee, the two oldest children of William Branson and Sara Lee, did not move to Texas with their parents.

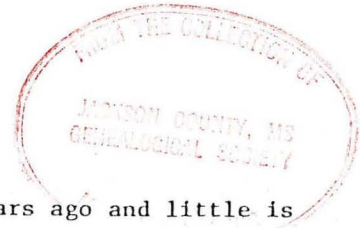

A small amount of information was gathered on the remaining ten children of William Branson Lee and Sara Spears Lee.

James Lee married Flora Barker and had two children. Lela and Ivey. After Flora died, he remarried. Nothing is known of his second marriage.

Hector Lee married Martha Fisher. They had six children. The boys names are William, Lanis, Aytch. The girls names Vick, Ivey and Nora. None of these are alive today.

Yancy Lee married Sudie Brown and had two daughters. Their names are Sally and Vertie. Nothing has been heard from these daughters in several years.

May Ann Lee married Corpus Moffett. They had two daughters, one named Etta

(the other unknown). They moved away from the community years ago and little is known about them.

Angelina Lee (known as Annie) married John McEnturff and had seven children. Their names are: George, Walter, Lizzie, Ada, Elsie, Arlene and Duley. Walter is the only known living child of Anelina and John McEnturff.

Nancy D. Lee (known as Della) married William Cockrell. They had five children. Luna and Lena, the girls are both dead. The boys, Harvey, Walter, and Randolph are also dead.

The above eight children of William Branson Lee and Sara Lee were born in South Carolina near Clio. The following four children were born in North Carolina in Alfordsville, a small community across the State line.

Robert E. Lee born 1870 married Bell Zora Park and had four children. Their children are Alie, Bill, Connie, Flossie, and Lylie. Robert E. had one child by his second marriage named Robbie. Robbie lives in California. Lylie Lee lives in Dallas, Texas. He was born September 29, 1900 and is still living.

Louisa Lee (known as Lucy) married Oscar Dossey and moved to Oklahoma. There they raised a family of five children - Earl, David, Leo, Sallie Mae, and Louise. It is not known if any of these are still living.

Green Walter Lee married Ellen McDonald. They had two children, Ottis and Verba. Verba married Melvin Hooks and lives in Wills Point, Texas. Melvin Hooks is a retired teacher. Verba works at the Wills Point Clinic, and has for many years. They have no children.

Alice M. Lee married William Clay and had three children, Corley, George, and Dorothy. They moved away from Wills Point and nothing is known of their families or whereabouts.

William Spears Lee married Johnny Jane Smith on October 12th, 1875. She was the daughter of John P. Smith and Julia Adams. William S. Lee was a life long resident of Marlboro County. William S. and Johnny Jane lived in several different parts of Marlboro County while farming and raising their family of six. One child, William Eddie Lee, died very young. The house in Hebron where some of the children were born was torn down several years ago, but the house in Bennettsville still stands.

When Johnny Jane Lee died October 7, 1925, she and William S. Lee were living in Clio. She died at the home of her son, Marvin Lee. William S. Lee died September 21, 1935 after a short illness. They are both buried in Hebron Cemetery.

Children of William Spears Lee and Johnny Jane Smith Lee:

James Tilden Lee
John Marvin Lee
Willie Eddie Lee
Minnie John Lee
Linnie Branson Lee
Charles Dixon Lee

James Tilden Lee was born 9-17-1877 and died 5-31-1957; He married Eloise Adams in 1897. Eloise Adams was the daughter of John Bethea Adams and Elizabeth Miller Adams. Eloise was born 1-17-1871 and died 10-9-1951.

Tilden and Eloise Lee are buried in Bennettsville at Sunset Memorial Cemetery. Tilden and Eloise Lee lived in Hebron Community where he farmed. Later, they moved to Dunbar. At this time, Dunbar was a thriving little town with stores, several churches, a boarding house, a school, and railway station. In 1912, Tilden and Eloise moved to Clio where their children attended school.

Tilden and Eloise Lee had eight children: Edith and Ethel Lee, twin daughters, died in infancy. Their children are:

HISTORY OF ANNA LEE SIMMONS:

ANNA ELIZABETH LEE SIMMONS began school in Bennettsville, spending the school week with her grandmother Adams in order to be near school. She went to Miss Mae Weatherly and Miss Newton's private schools. She went to Dunbar School for the seventh grade, then to Clio High School, graduating in 1918. After graduation, Anna entered Winthrop College, graduating in 1922. In the fall of 1922, Anna went to Wilmington, N. C. to teach. There she met Fitzhugh Lee Simmons, from Mintz, N. C. Anna and Fitz married soon after the close of school.

Fitzhugh (Fitz) was transferred to Birmingham, Ala. that year (1923). He was employed by Van Camp Packing Co.

In 1930, during the depression, Fitz was sent back to South Carolina and North Carolina, where business had fallen off a great deal. His headquarters were in Columbia, S. C.

Fitzhugh Lee Simmons was born while Anna and Fitz, Sr. were living in Birmingham. He attended public school graduating from Edwards Military Institute, Salumberg, N. C. in June 1943. Fitz, Jr. was immediately inducted into the Army at Fort Jackson and sent to Ft. McLellan, Ala. for basic infantry training. On completion he was shipped overseas from Camp Patrick Henry, Mass. to England, as a replacement, Finally in Co. I, 109th Infantry Twenty Eight Division. They were stationed at St. Donals Castle on Bristol Channel in Wales. They became friendly with the Welch. Maneuvering through their countryside, visiting their homes and pubs. Shortly before "D" Day, in May of 1944, they were moved to a tent camp in Southern England, preparatory to the invasion. Well trained for beach assault, they entered France about the first of July at Omaha Beach. From Normandy and St. Lo they moved rapidly through France until the evening of August 25, when Fitz, Jr. was wounded near the town of Elbeuf on the Seine River, small automatic arms fire. Having ~~been~~ wounded badly in his right thigh, Fitz, Jr. spent that night in the woods. He was helped by some buddies to get to a Frenchman's house. There he was fed black bread by the French family and "C" rations were shared with his buddies. Fitz was airlifted to England to recuperate, after which he returned to his division. In March of that year, he was hospitalized with a foot problem. The war ended while Fitch was in the hospital and he was sent back to the States and discharged from Ft. Bragg, N. C. Fitz, Jr.'s medals include the EAMET Medal with three bronze service stars, good conduct medal, victory medal, purple heart, and bronze star as well as the combat infantry-man's badge.

Fitz, Jr. entered Clemson College in February of 1946, leaving in 1947 and returning to Bennettsville to work with the Highway Department as an inspector. From 1947 until 1957, he supervised the building and construction of numerous government projects in North Carolina, South Carolina, and Georgia. He is classified as an Engineer and assigned to the Military Planning Section.

Laura Ann was born in Bennettsville. She attended public school in Columbia, S. C. While she was attending Davis Private School she met Reese Harrington Bingham. Laura Ann worked for ten years for J. P. Stevens. After the death of Reese, she married Bernard Stubbs.

Mrs. Lee is honored Thursday for 25 years with United Fund

It was a happy but misty-eyed occasion Thursday when the friends and co-workers of Mrs. Louise Lee gathered at Herb's Steakhouse for a luncheon in her honor. The event noted Mrs. Lee's retirement as executive secretary of the United Fund, a position she has held for over 25 years.

Ken Harmon, who first worked with Mrs. Lee on a United Fund Drive over 18 years ago, took the podium to say that Mrs. Lee is thought of as "a friend and neighbor to all in Marlboro County" who lives to serve others.

He noted that she had been a moving force in organizing the Mental Health Association in 1959 and in re-organizing it several years later.

She was instrumental in organizing the Tri-County Mental Health Clinic which has grown today to become the comprehensive facility now housed on U.S. 15-401 between Bennettsville and McColl.

Harmon noted Mrs. Lee's Operation Santa Claus which has touched the lives of hundreds of patients in the state's mental hospital, bringing them clothes and other articles.

Mrs. Lee served as executive secretary to the United Fund's first president, H. P. Midgley 20 years ago and has held the position ever since. She refused the job of president.

Harmon listed her awards as follows: 1974, S. C. Mental Health Award; 1975, Bennettsville Lions Club Citizen of the Year; 1977, S. C. Volunteer of the Year; 1979, Junior Charity League Woman of the Year.

She has served as a member on the boards of Tri-County Mental Health and the Chesterfield - Marlboro Council on Alcohol and Drug Abuse.

Lloyd Howard, Director at Tri-County Mental Health termed Mrs. Lee "an inspiration" to his staff at the clinic and said she was in large part responsible for the agency's expansion from a small clinic to today's comprehensive facility.

United Fund President Ezra Perkins presented Mrs. Lee a plaque commemorating her work with the United Fund and thanked Drake Rogers for organizing the luncheon.

In accepting the plaque, Mrs. Lee thanked the group and said that "I'm so proud I can't think of anything to say." Though retired, she promised to "hang around" to be of assistance in the next United Fund campaign.

On hand for the occasion Thursday were family members Mr. and Mrs. Jamie Lee, daughter Mary Louise, Mrs. Sandra Davis and husband Ray.

The United Fund's new Executive Secretary is Ms. Bernice Broomfield.

Retiring

Mrs. Louise Lee was honored on her retirement from the United Fund last Thursday by many of her co-workers in various volunteer agencies. Mrs. Lee is credited with much of the success of the United Fund and many other volunteer projects in Marlboro. United Fund President Ezra Perkins is at right. (Spivey photo)

SGT. JAMIE LEE

S. C. Soldier Once Rescued By Plane And Once Saved By Swimming Icy River.

BENNETTSVILLE, S. C. Aug. 21. —Sgt. Jamie Lee, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jim T. Lee, arrived Sunday night after more than three years service in Japan and Korea. Sergeant Lee was graduated from the Bennettsville High School in 1947 and entered army service in April, 1948. In July of the same year he sailed for Tokyo, where he was assigned to General MacArthur's honor guard. His picture, with other members of the honor guard, appeared on the cover of Life magazine a year or so ago.

In July of last year Sergeant Lee volunteered for service in Korea with a felder group and was in active combat through April of this year, when he was reassigned to the honor guard in Tokyo. While in Korea he was with the trapped troops in Hamhung, being flown out just in time to enjoy a Christmas dinner in safety. Returning to combat in the late winter, he was one of six men from his group who escaped the pursuing Communists by sliding down a mountain side and swimming an icy river.

Sergeant Lee flew from Tokyo to California, arriving in San Francisco on August 12. He will be there until late September, but has at present received no word as to where his next assignment will take him.

During his high school years Sergeant Lee was a star member of the Green Gremlins football and basketball teams. He was twice all-state end in football and was once on the all-state basketball team.

Meets Monarch

Capt. Charles D. Lee, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles D. Lee of 177 Clifton avenue, who met King George VI of England when the monarch visited an American air force station "somewhere in England" recently.

Spartan in Group Greeted by King

Capt. Lee Shakes Hands With Ruler

Capt. Charles D. Lee, 26, of Spartanburg, was among the group of Americans greeted by King George VI, of England when the monarch inspected stations in the Eighth bomber command "somewhere in England," the Associated Press reported yesterday.

The fliers had been told to expect a distinguished visitor, but had expected Mrs. Roosevelt, it was said.

The king, wearing the uniform of a marshal of the RAF, was accompanied by Maj. Gen. Carl Spaatz, commander-in-chief of the U. S. army air force in the European theater and Major Gen. Ira C. Eaker, head of the U. S. bomber command.

King George ate luncheon at officers' mess at a station commanded by Col. E. J. Timberlake of San Antonio, Tex. The first Liberators he inspected was at a station commanded by Col. R. R. Walker of Spokane, Wash. The king shook hands with the crew which included Capt. Lee.

Capt. Lee is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles D. Lee of 177 Clifton avenue. He volunteered in 1940 as an officer in the ground forces, but soon qualified as an aviation cadet and was commissioned as a flight officer December 12, 1941, at Barksdale Field, La. He was advanced to the rank of first lieutenant March 1 and in May, 1942, completed his combat and Flying Fortress training.

He was promoted to the rank of captain in July and at the same time was transferred to England where he since has been stationed.

ASSIGNED IN ENGLAND

An Eighth AAF Bomber Station, England, Feb. 28.—Major Charles D. Lee, Jr., 27, has been assigned to a pioneer Flying Fortress group in the E.T.O. commanded by Col. C. E. Putnam. It was announced recently by the commanding general.

Major Lee has completed 14 operational missions over Germany and enemy occupied countries as a pilot, for which he has been awarded the Air Medal with Oak Leaf Cluster. He is presently serving as group operations officer.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles D. Lee of 177 Clifton avenue, Major Lee was employed by Sears Roebuck and Company, Greenville, before entering the AAF. He graduated from Greenville high school in 1934 and from The Citadel in 1938, where he was a member of the R.O.T.C.

Charles D. Lee Is Missing In Action

Major Charles D. Lee, Jr., 27, of the Army Air forces, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles D. Lee, of Spartanburg, has been reported missing in action in the European theatre of operations. Major Lee's orders promoting him to the rank of lieutenant colonel came through just two days after he was reported missing.

Major Lee holds the Air Medal, two oak leaf clusters and Distinguished Flying Cross. He was awarded the Distinguished Flying Cross, fourth highest valor award given to United States forces, after he led a combat wing of B-17 Fortresses to attack Leipzig, Germany, on February 20. He had been in active service since November, 1941, and overseas two years.

Major Lee's father, Charles D. Lee, is a native of Marlboro county and a brother of Tilden Lee and Marvin Lee, of Clifton.

THE LEES OF VIRGINIA

Richard Lee was the grandson of John Lee of Coton Hall, lord of the manor of Nordley Regis in south-eastern Shropshire. He was born there, perhaps in 1613, but, as the son of a younger son, he had no prospects there. His father, Richard, had only a life tenure in one of the farms of the manor. At an early age he was sent to London to seek his fortune under the tutelage of his first cousin, John Lee, an established merchant in hides and pelts. In London he received some legal education as well as commercial experience.

Richard Lee came to Virginia in 1639 to be Clerk of the Quarter Court at Jamestown. Not long after his arrival he married Anna Constable, a ward of the Governor, Sir Francis Wiatt. But his principal occupation in Virginia was as a factor for his cousin, John Lee of London, in the fur trade with the Indians. He took his young bride away from the colonial capital to live among the Indians beyond the frontier of settlement (Their home was near Gloucester Point.) They must have narrowly escaped death in the Great Massacre of 1644, when some 500 English were slain by the Indians in a sudden onslaught. Undaunted, Richard Lee resumed his trade with the Indians just as soon as peace was restored, in 1646.

In 1649 Richard Lee was appointed colonial Secretary of State—that is, next in authority in Virginia after the Governor, Sir William Berkeley. In 1650 he made a voyage to the Netherlands to report Virginia's loyal adherence to King Charles II, but he was not the devout royalist that he is often represented to have been on that account. Two years later he negotiated the capitulation of Virginia to the Commonwealth of England and was well satisfied with the terms that he obtained. He then retired from public office, but he had no personal difficulty in accommodating himself to the Commonwealth regime. On several occasions he represented the interests of Virginia in London, albeit in the character of a London merchant.

From 1652 onwards Richard Lee spent almost as much time in London as he did in Virginia, becoming as much a London merchant trading to Virginia as he was a great planter in Virginia. That personal accommodation to the Navigation Act was the foundation of his later fortune, which was perhaps the greatest in the Virginia of his day. Disposing of several lesser properties, he consolidated and developed four major plantations, two in Gloucester County ("War Captain's Neck" and "Paradise") and two in Northumberland ("Dividing Creek" and "Machodoc"). He also acquired a plantation ("Lee's Purchase") in Maryland. In 1660 he was restored to the Council of State in Virginia, but that made no difference in his trans-Atlantic operations.

In 1658 Richard Lee acquired a residence at Stratford Langton, then a pleasant suburb of London, and in 1661 he moved his family thither. He did that for the better education of his younger children—his two older sons, John and Richard, were already students at Oxford—but he always intended that their future should lie in Virginia, except for Francis, who was designated to become a London merchant. Richard Lee died at his Dividing Creek plantation in 1664 and his family returned to Virginia soon thereafter.

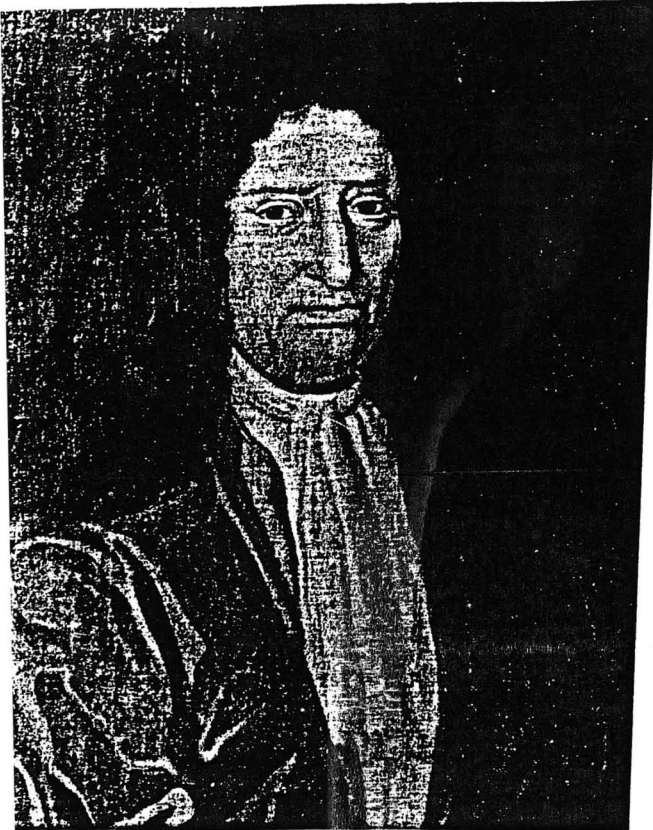

Richard Lee's will directed that his property at Stratford be sold, and that the proceeds be used to discharge his debts, to complete the education of John and Richard at Oxford, and to provide dowries for his daughters, Elizabeth and Anne. He left the Machodoc plantation to his son John, the Paradise plantation to Richard, "War Captain's Neck" to Francis, and the Maryland plantation to William. The Dividing Creek plantation he left to his widow for her lifetime and afterwards to be divided among his younger sons, William, Hancock, and Charles.

John Lee died unmarried, in 1673. The Machodoc plantation then passed to his brother Richard, as their father's heir-at-law.

Richard Lee II married Letitia Corbin. Four of their sons—Richard, Philip, Thomas, and Henry—became, respectively, the progenitors of the Mount Pleasant, Maryland, Stratford, and Lee Hall branches of the family. Their only daughter, Ann, married William Fitzhugh. She also has many descendants.

Francis Lee sold "War Captain's Neck" and became a London merchant trading to Virginia. He married in London and had two sons and three daughters. Their English descendants are unknown to us.

William Lee died in 1696 and left his estate to one Mary, the widow of Thomas Heath and wife of Bartholomew Schreever. It has been supposed that she was William Lee's daughter. Richard Lee II, however, claimed William Lee's lands as heir-at-law of their father, contending that William had had only a life estate in them, since the first Richard's will had contained, with reference to them, no "words of inheritance"—i.e., "and his heirs forever". This contention

THE DITCHLEY LINE

Hancock Lee (1653-1709) eventually inherited the southern third of the Dividing Creek plantation, which he called Hancock's Neck. He married, first, Mary Kendall, and second, Sarah Allerton, a great-granddaughter of Elder William Brewster, the leader of the Plymouth Colony. Thus some of the Ditchley Lees have a Mayflower ancestry.

Richard Lee (1691-1740), Hancock Lee's eldest son, inherited Hancock's Neck and renamed it Ditchley, after Ditchley Park in Oxfordshire. He was pleased to suppose (erroneously) that he was somehow related to the Earl of Litchfield, the most distinguished Lee of his time. The present Ditchley mansion was built, about 1762, by this Richard Lee's son, Kendall Lee.

Hancock Lee was the only son of the emigrant Richard Lee who proved to be an empire-builder like his father. He acquired for himself extensive landholdings in what later became Stafford, Prince William, and Fauquier counties. All these lands eventually came into the possession of his posthumous son, Hancock Lee (1709-1789). He married Mary Willis. His sons, Willis and Hancock Lee, and his nephew, Hancock Taylor, went to Kentucky in 1771 as surveyors for the Ohio Company founded by Thomas Lee of Stratford. Hancock Taylor was killed there by the Indians in 1774, Willis Lee in 1776. The third Hancock Lee (1736-1815) became the progenitor of a large family in Piedmont Virginia and Kentucky.

The most notable member of this branch of the family was General Zachary Taylor (1784-1850), a grandson of Elizabeth Lee, a daughter of the first Hancock Lee. He distinguished himself in the Mexican War and was afterwards President of the United States. His son, Richard Taylor (1826-1879), was a Confederate lieutenant general.

THE COBBS HALL LINE

Charles Lee (1656-1700), the youngest son of the first Richard Lee, eventually inherited the middle third of the Dividing Creek plantation, including the home at which his father had died. In about 1720 his son, Charles Lee (1684-1741), built a new house a half-mile from the original one and called it Cobbs Hall. The present Cobbs Hall was built in 1853 by Lewis Harvey, the husband of Martha Lee (1803-1878), a great-great-great-granddaughter of the first Charles Lee. The present master of Cobbs Hall is her great-grandson, E. Walter Harvey, Sr. Cobbs Hall is the only property once held by the first Richard Lee which has remained continuously in the possession of his descendants down to the present day.

Dear Mrs. Strickland:

A million thanks for your kind letter and the valuable excerpt from your book The Autobiography of A. C. Ramsey. Your mailing arrived while I was in New England on a genealogical trip, and I apologize for the inadvertent delay in my answering. Your script is beautiful and nicer to read than typewriting, but the same can not be said for mine.

I am very grateful to you for your comments regarding Gary Lee. It is good to know that you feel strongly that he and Whitfield Lee are sons of Uriah Lee and not sons of the other Lees in Marion, Perry and Wayne counties.

I do not know the religious preference of Uriah Lee, so he may well have been a Baptist. The man who I believe was his father was listed as Rev. John Lee in the 1800 census of Sumter County, S.C. However I have never been able to discover which church he was affiliated with there. My father told me our Lees went to whichever Protestant Church was nearest their home, when they lived on farms. I am delighted to have the excerpt from the Autobiography of A. C. Ramsey, which indicates the Lee family in Jackson County in 1820 were Baptists. That is valuable information to have in my file.

Thank you for the name and address of Patty Smith who is researching a Lee family in George County. When I get caught up I plan to write to her. The data I have now does not link Rankin Lee to Uriah Lee; but as I know so few of his descendants, Rankin Lee may prove to be one of them.

We always want to know why our ancestors moved where they did. I appreciate your comments that the economy of the 1870-1880 period in Jackson County would not entice new settlers; so Rankin Lee may have returned thinking there was some land or something of value left by his ancestors.

It was thoughtful of you point out that in the 1820 census a male in the 16-18 category is included in the 16-26 category. It was not so long ago that, unaware of this pitfall, I did think that Uriah Lee had 9 sons rather than 8.

Your comment that you feel there is some error in the Lee research in Marion and Wayne counties is much appreciated, and I feel the same way. It is good to know about the Reuben

I just re-read my previous letter and out jumped the typographical error of track for tract. To err is human and I am all too human.

Again, thank you very much for all your help. If I can ever be of help to you, please do not hesitate to call me.

SUBJECT: LEE/AL/1820-1854

I am looking for KELLY, LEE & PERRY families in Alabama. My gr-gr-grandmother, Amanda LEE married Tom KELLY and the two raised at least four children somewhere in Alabama. Their oldest child, Martha Ann KELLY claimed to be 73 in 1899 which would make her DOB 1826. Martha married Jack PERRY in 1853, they lived in Mobile, I think. My grandmother, Parilee PERRY, was born there in 1854. All except Captain Jack PERRY, deceased by about 1858, moved to Texas and were all living in Red River Co., TX by 1859.

Dear Sherry:

Thank you for your letter of May 8, 1994 and your kind words on my research. I believe I have found something here that will help you with your Lees.

Sometime ago Zach Lee of Sarasoto, FL donated his research on the Lees to me for the Library where I work. I am enclosing copies for you.

Samuel Lee born 1851 was the son of Robertson or Robert Lee born 1818. See enclosed family from Who Married Whom Wayne County. Robertson is buried in a private cemetery in Wayne county. A lady from Pensacola is fencing and restoring the cemetery and is supposed to send me a complete copy soon. Robertson Lee died 9-25-1887 he was born April 6, 1818.

Robertson Lee was the son of Samuel Lee b. 25 Dec 1772 his wife was either Sarah Slay or Sarah Burns. Samuel b1772 was the son of Sherrard Lee and Sarah Worde. Sherrard Lee b 1749 was the son of Arthur Fernay Lee b 1719 in Virginia. Enclosed is a chart that takes Arthur Lee back to his great grandfather Richard Lee of Shropshire, England in 1563.

I hope you can understand all of this. The charts are not the best.

If I can help further, please let me know. Happy hunting.

Dear Mrs. Strickland,
Hi, my name is Sherry (Jo)
Gates from Dumas, MS.
I would like to sponsor my appreciation to you as I have read much of your literature in my work on the Gates Family
I have not worked on such a project until this year. I need to solicit your help if I may.

James Lee Davis 1851 first born 1859
named to "Virginia" Davis
she died 4/11/1903 and is buried at the White Horse Cemetery in Wayne County. James married a second time the was Maria Brown. I was told they (James + Maria) were buried in Baldwin County Alabama.
my question is how and/or where do I begin researching? I've done much research at the McLean Library at 115N but have not been able to Come up with anything on Samuel James Lee. I would appreciate any info you can give me.

Thanks again for all the wonderful information you have supplied to the Library at both USM and Waynesboro.
They are most helpful books.

Hope to hear from you soon.

Sincerely,

Pascagoula MS 39567

Dear Mrs. Strickland:

Meeting you in the Library last month was the highlight of my trip to Pascagoula. On my return I had to drop genealogy to work on a chapter for a medical book, which is now finished. I wish to thank you for all the help you gave me and particularly for your assistance in using the Jackson County, Mississippi, Track Book.

I followed your kind suggestion and telephoned Mrs. Carrie Lee Morris of Tylertown. We exchanged information on her Gary Lee and my Uriah Lee, and plan to work together on our hopefully mutual Lee family. If it is not imposing to much on your good nature I would greatly value your opinion on the likelihood of a relationship between Uriah Lee and Gary Lee based on the enclosed 1820 records of Jackson County, MS.

The Uriah Lee I am tracing was born about 1770. His earliest grantee deed was for land in Wayne County, North Carolina, in 1793, which he sold in 1795. He was in the 1800 and 1810 censuses of Sumter County, South Carolina. His last grantor deed was in 1818 in Sumter County, SC. I believe he is the Uriah Lee in the 1820 Federal census of Jackson County, MS.

1800 Census of Sumter County, South Carolina:

Uriah Lee, 26-45, 3 m under 10; 1 f 26-45.

1810 Census of Sumter County, South Carolina:

Uriah Lee, 26-45, 4 m under 10, 2 m 10-16;
1 f 26-45, 2 f under 10.

1820 Census of Jackson County, Mississippi:

Uriah Lee, over 45, 2 m under 10, 2 m 10-16, 1 m 16-18, 4 m 16-26; 1 f over 45, 1 f under 10, 2 f 10-16.

Enclosed are copies of the pertinent pages of the 1820 census of Jackson County, MS, and the 1820 and 1821 Tax Rolls of Jackson County, MS. Uriah Lee was included in this 1820 census (with 4 males 16-26). He was not on the 1820 Tax Roll of Jackson County, MS, which with your help I concluded was due to his being age 50 (or older). However, this 1820 Tax Roll included a Whitfield Lee and Gary Lee and many of the names adjacent to them were the same as the names adjacent to Uriah Lee in the 1820 census.

Lee Family File #2

It occurred to me that Whitfield Lee and Gary Lee are probably sons of Uriah Lee, who were age 21 (or older). Uriah Lee had 4 males 16-26 in the 1820 census of Jackson County, MS, and 3 males under 10 in the 1800 census of Sumter County, S.C. I would be grateful for your candid opinion on the likelihood of this relationship between Uriah Lee and Whitfield Lee and Gary Lee.

The 1821 Tax Roll of Jackson County, MS, included Whitfield Lee, Garrold Lee, and also a William Lee and Ruben Lee. There were no Lees in the Tax Rolls of Jackson County, MS, for 1818, 1819, 1822, 1824, and 1825.

The published 1825 Tax List of Marion County, MS, included Whitfield Lee, Garry Lee, Rheuben Lee and other Lees. The 1840 census of Marion County, MS, included Whitfield Lee, Garry Lee, Reubin Lee, and William Lee (who were all 40-50 years old) and other Lees. This is the last record I found for Whitfield Lee. Rheuben Lee and William Lee are reportedly sons of a Samuel Lee, who was born on 25 DEC 1772 in Williamsburg County, SC, and died in Waynesboro, Wayne County, MS. This Samuel Lee had one son and two grandsons named Uriah Lee. I found these Uriah Lees in the census, court, and cemetery records in various counties in Mississippi. The last record I found for Gary Lee was the 1850 census of Perry County, MS; he was 51 years of age and was born in South Carolina.

In closing I want to congratulate you on your many fine books. I perused each one of them I found in the libraries in Gulfport and Hattiesburg. The Who Married Who books are a true bonanza for searchers working in counties with burned courthouses. I retired two years ago and am thoroughly enjoying the pursuit of my ancestors. Enclosed is self-addressed stamped envelope and I would appreciate your opinion regarding the presumed relationship between Uriah Lee and Gary Lee.

Sincerely,

Robert E. Lee, M.D.

Mrs. Patricia N. Edwards
1765 Silverado Trail
Napa, CA 94558

Dear Mrs. Edwards,

I wrote to you about a year ago concerning the work you are doing on Perry County, and never did get back with you on any of my families.

Mary Jane Caruso sent some information from the print out you sent her on one Nancy and Elisha Anderson. I would like for you to make a correction on this information as it is not correct. Elisha Anderson married Nancy LEE, not Nancy LAMBERT. Her tombstone reads Nancy Lee, wife of Elisha Anderson. She is buried in the old Lee Family Cemetery on the old Homestead off Hwy. 589 between Purvis and Hwy. 98. She is buried beside her mother and father, William (Billy) Lee and Margaret (Peggy) Collins.

Enclosed is a copy of her death certificate stating her father was a LEE. The person filling out the certificate did not seem to know who her mother was. Copies from her pension application states she was a Lee and married Elisha Anderson in Perry Co. Their first child was born in Feb. 1858 so they were probably married in 1856.

Elisha Anderson served in the War Between the States in Co. G, 1 Reg't New Orleans Infantry as a private. Elisha Anderson died of Bronchitis at the age of 29 on the 8th of Jan. 1866 in the Military Hospital (Sedgwick) at Greenville, LA.

Below are some of the surnames I am working on from the old Perry County Area:

LEE, JOHNSON, FILLINGAME, ANDERSON, DAVIS, COLLINS, FATHEREE, PALMER, WALLEY, WHIDDON, LOTT

If I can help you on any of the above names let me know.

On a separate sheet I am listing the children of William & Margaret Collins Lee's children.

Again, please correct this error on Nancy LEE.

Sincerely,

Elaine

Elaine Bullock

P. S.

I am not a direct descendant of Nancy Lee & Elisha Anderson but of a sister to Nancy Lee and a sister to Elisha Anderson.

P.S. I put this together very hurriedly so it is not complete. I would love to review what you have as you did with Mary Jane Caruso.

* Martha Ann Lee & Edward Johnson are my great great grandparents. They are buried in the old Johnson Cemetery in Lamar Co., Miss. on the old Johnson homestead. The old Edward Johnson had a Water Mill not far from where the cemetery is located.

Matilda Johnson, wife of William Riley Lee was a sister to Edward Johnson, my ancestor.

Calvin Johnson, husband of Almedia Lee, was not of this Johnson line. His father was William JOHNSON who was born in Conn.

I have been unable to find the name of Margaret Lee's husband. She shows up on the 1880 Census as a Walley and a widow.

Sarah's husband is no doubt the Richard Palmer you show on your print out, with children Selestine b. 1874, Isolene b. 1876 and Arbazine b. 1878.

A grand son of Edward Johnson and Martha Lee gave me the children of William(Billy) Lee and Margaret (Peggy) Collins. He didn't know the husbands names of Sarah Ann and Margaret(Mary), that is their given name. He gave me their last names.

Pat. Mattie Deen's mother was named EMMA (EMILY). believe maiden name was LEE. After her marriage to Bill DEEN, she married James Winfield MILLER and then after he died she married J. Clint KING and she died 1911 near Bassfield and is buried in the KING Cemetery according to records I have found. Maybe Jesse had two sons by the same name or Bill's name was something other than William? I had the mother's name but did not have the father's name until the death certificate. Do not know where the DAVIS Funeral Home got their information for filing the death certificate. My husband only has one aunt on his mother's side still living and the name of the grandfather was unknown to those that have talked to her. She lives in Calif. Hope this helps, Jackie PCSS32A

Dear Mrs. Strickland:

Thanks very much for your prompt reply of my letter of June 19. I am sorry to learn that you are not working on the Southwest Mississippi Counties. I am also sorry that I was not working on family history a few years ago when my daughter and son-in-law were stationed at Keesler Field. Oh well, so it goes.

Concerning Perry County, when did the burn-out occur? Also, In the Publication which you Co-Authored with Patricia N. Edwards, Who Married Whom, Perry County, Mississippi, entries for Elijah Lee and Stephen R. Lee are mostly tagged "fk". Is there any way that I can find out names, addresses and/or phone numbers for the family members who contributed this knowledge? I realize that these data are several years old, but I am grabbing at straws trying to establish whether Stephen Roland Lee was the son of the Elijah Lee-Martha Roland Marriage. A Ms birth, death Census abt 1823 lists a male child born to Elijah Lee. This would approximate Stephen's birth date on a gravestone in Big Creek Cemetery in Grant Parish, LA. I know that this stone was placed fifty years after his death.

Any help that you can give me on locating family members contributing data will be appreciated very much.

I enclose a SSAE.

Charles H. Barron

Dear Mrs. Edwards:

Please excuse my delay in replying to your letter. It reached me about a week before the final illness of my aged Mother.

I have never investigated the Barfield family but I am positive that the Daniel you found on the Sumter Co., S.C. Census report is the same person who is mentioned in the enclosed records re the Thomas Havis estate (on file in the Kershaw Co., S.C. Probate Court). You will note that these records do not call Daniel a son-in-law of Thomas Havis but it lists him as an "interested" party (along with the others who had an interest in the estate). It is safe to say that Daniel Barfield was the husband of "Kosiah", dau of Havis. If you are interested you might care to write to the Sumter Gen. Society, Sumter, S.C. 29050 for the names and addresses of any person who may be researching the Barfield name.

As to my Lee ancestor I know that John Lee lived in Wayne County after it was formed from Clottes Co., N.C. He and his wife, Susanna are listed in the Wayne Co., N.C. deed & tax records. I have a copy of a paper in which John waived his right to some land that he had patented for, in favor of "my son Jonathan". Jonathan moved to S.C. prior to 1800. Urisk, Ann and others appear to be sons of "Rev." John Lee. The name of Rev John Lee has not been found in local S.C. records except in the census report. Eli, and others are likely children of this John Lee.

The DNA records from Georgia show that some people claim that the John Lee of Wayne County was their ancestor. I am certain that John and Susannah Lee were the parents of Jonathan, Urisk, and others listed above.

I notice that you list "Hartsfield" as a name you were interested in. My ancestor, Stephen Smith, is listed on the tax records of Johnston Co., N.C. along with a John Hartsfield in the middle 1700's. I do not know why they were so listed.

If I receive further info on the Lees I will share it. I have little doubt that these are the same Lees that moved to your area.

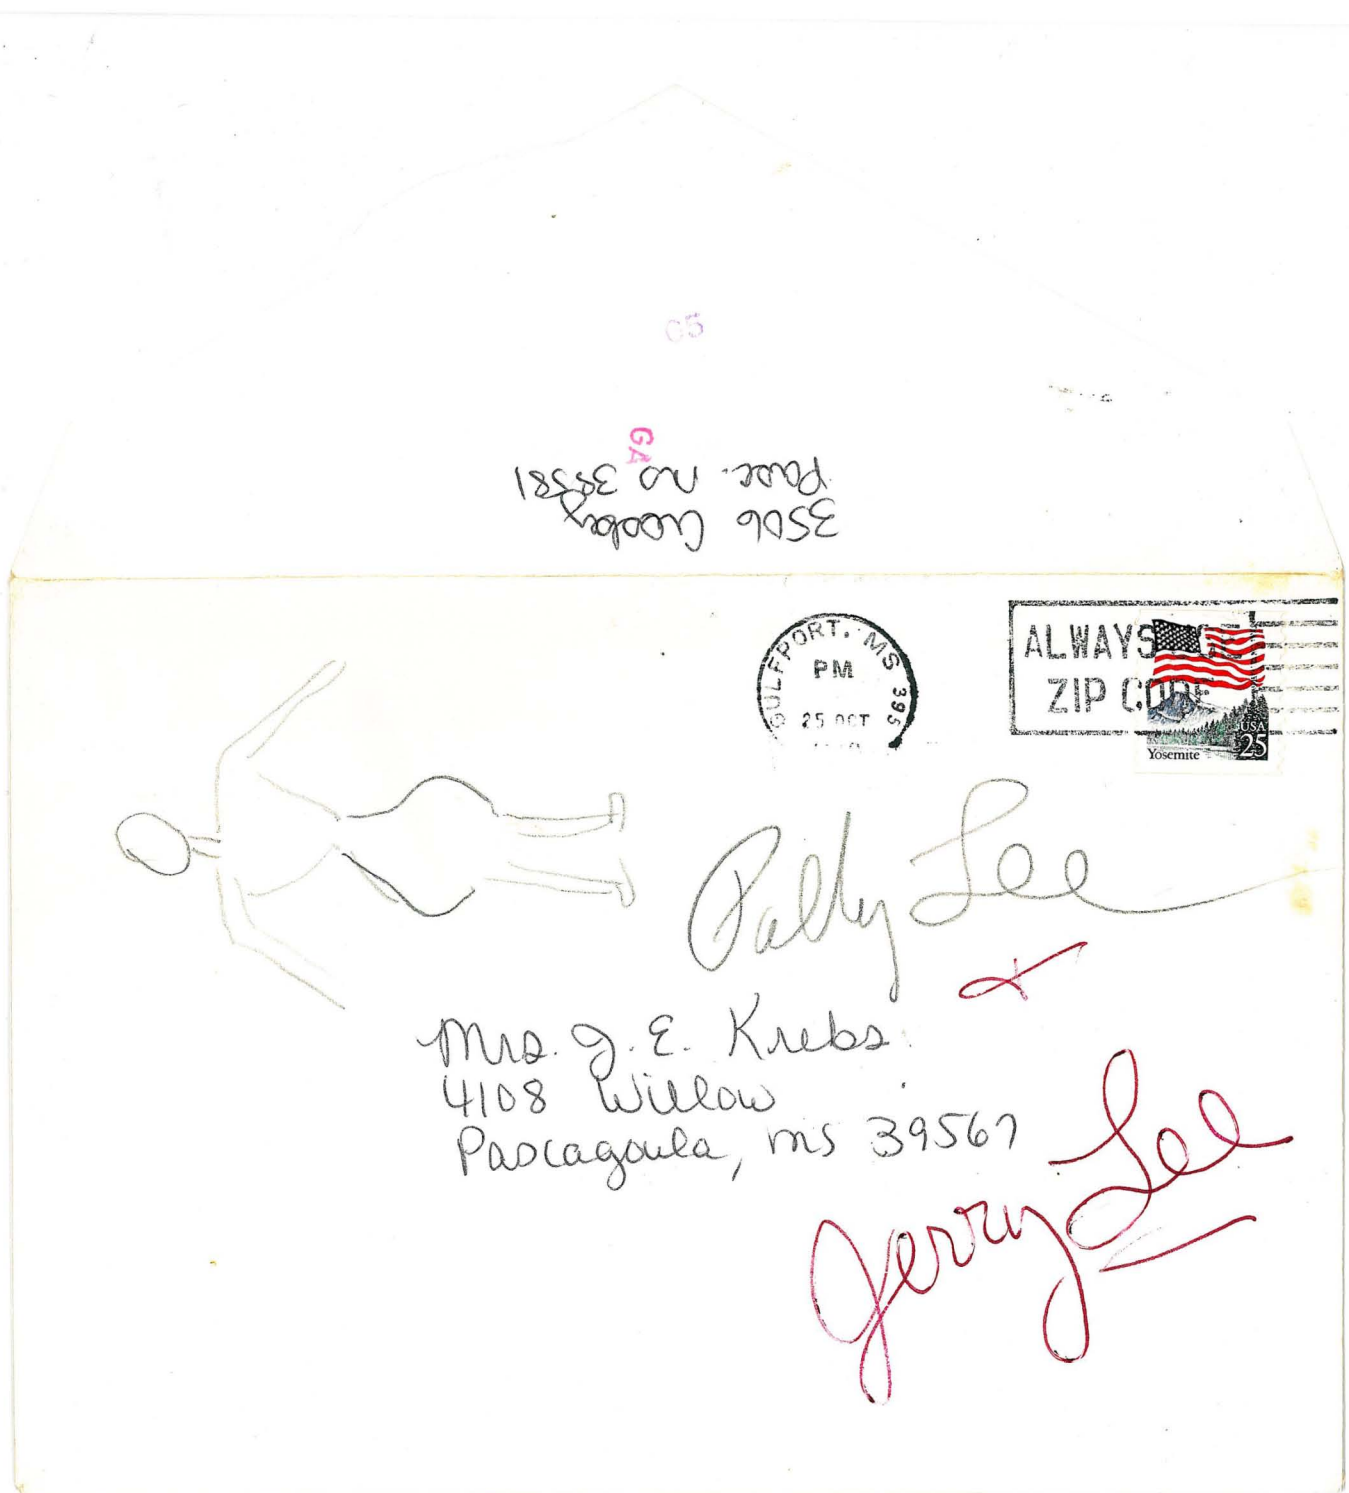

Sincerely,
Lex. Sykin

Dear Jean:

Thanks for the address of Charles Barron descended from Elijah Lee. I plan to write to him right away. Talk about a family that embraces every family you ever heard of - it's the Lee family.

I've made so many notes on your sheet you won't be able to understand it I'm afraid; however, give it a try. I still don't know who the Stephen Lee is - but it will come, no doubt.

The Dearman book has been a great help in linking these Marion, Pearl River, Hancock, Lamar & Perry County families and I've been meaning to write Velvo to tell her how grateful I am for her having written it. There are literally hundreds of connections with the families I'm working on. Makes me a little happier about writing the Stewart book - perhaps it will help someone else as much as the Dearman book has helped me.

Keep healthy - I don't want anything to happen to you. Where would I go for all the answers?

Dear Ms. Edwards,

My name is Jim Lee and I am currently doing family research on my Lee family. Jean Strickland was so helpful in my search. I was so shocked to hear of her death. Never having had the opportunity to meet her, I did a lot of communication with her and she always was willing to assist me. She will be greatly missed.

Prior to Jean's passing away, she told me to contact you, for you had done the work on the Lee's. I would like to be able to contact you by e-mail if possible. Also, do you have access to a fax machine? I have some documents that I would like to share with you. I have several researchers that I e-mail, including Russ Williams, Jr. and Mary Caruso Burkett.

I have enclosed some of my family group sheets for you to look over. I hope I can be of help to you as well as you to me. I look forward to hearing from you.

Sincerely,

Jim Lee

returned home, where he soon afterwards married Charlotte Wickham. He then became a planter and located on the famous old Custis estate, the "White House," where the Widow Custis lived at the time of her marriage to George Washington. William H. Lee joined the Virginia troops soon after the outbreak of the war, holding various ranks, from that of captain to that of major-general of cavalry. He was badly wounded in the fight at Brandy Station and taken to the home of a relative of his wife, General Wickham, and soon afterwards taken prisoner and confined at Fortress Monroe. Thence he was taken to Fort Lafayette and confined there until March, 1864. In company with another Confederate soldier he was held as hostage for two Federal prisoners who were held in Richmond, who it was feared might be executed. Upon his release he returned home to find his young wife and children dead and his beautiful home burned to the ground and the estate laid waste. Almost the first thing he did was to go to Libby Prison and visit the two Federal prisoners who had been held, like himself, in fear of execution. He rejoined his command and led his division from Rapidan to Appomattox. His soldiers loved and trusted him and he fulfilled every duty and made every sacrifice required of him in the interests of the cause. When he was a prisoner of war, under fear of death, upon hearing of the fatal illness of his wife and two little children, he was not permitted to see them, even though his friends were working hard to obtain this permission for him. He accepted all as the ill fortune of war and was not embittered by this sorrow. Afterwards, as a farmer, he had to contend with a changing order of things and the confusion ensuing upon such great changes as followed the war. He became president of the Virginia Agricultural Society, served as state senator and member of Congress.

In 1867 he married Mary Tabb Bolling, and in 1874 they removed to Ravensworth, an estate of the Fitzhugh family, which William H. F. Lee inherited from his uncle, William Henry Fitzhugh. His death occurred there, a few months prior to the expiration of his second term as member of Congress, and after his election to the fifty-second Congress. He was always courteous and dignified in manner and deportment, charitable in a quiet way, and very much devoted to home and family. His first wife died in 1863. His second wife was a daughter of George W. and Martha S. (Nicholls) Bolling, of Petersburg, who survived him, with their two sons, Robert Edward and George Bolling Lee, the former of whom became a lawyer and the latter a physician.

The Bollings were early Virginia colonists. Robert Bolling came to Virginia in 1660, and married (first) in 1675, Jane, daughter of Thomas Rolfe and granddaughter of Pocahontas, and (second) Anne, daughter of John Stith. Robert, a son of the latter marriage, married Mary Cocke. Their son, Robert, married Mary Marshall Tabb, and the son of this union, Robert Bolling, the fourth of the name, was four times married, and by his last wife, Anne Dade (Stith) Bolling, had a son, George W., who married Martha S. Nicholls, of Georgetown. Mary Tabb Bolling was born at Petersburg, Virginia, in 1850.

Dr. George Bolling Lee prepared for college at a private Episcopal school for boys near Alexandria, Virginia, and entered Washington-Lee University, which he left in 1892 to enter the College of Physicians and Surgeons at Columbia University, of New York, from which he graduated in 1896 with the degree of M. D. He gained valuable experience and training by spending seven months as an interne at Bellevue Hospital, New York, and for five years thereafter was chief of the clinic of the outdoor department of the same hospital, performing the work with distinction and credit. He became well known in city medical circles. At the outbreak of the Spanish-American war he enlisted and in 1898 served as surgeon at the headquarters of the Seventh Army Corps at Jacksonville, Florida, holding the rank of captain. In 1899 he became associated with Dr. W. G. Wylie in general practice in New York City, but since 1902 has been practicing his profession alone. He is well established and enjoys a good practice. He is peculiarly well fitted for his profession, which he chose because of his predilection for it. Few have so noble lineage, including the most prominent among the aristocratic families of Virginia, who bore so honorable a share in building up the Old Dominion. He is a member of the New York State Medical Society, Greater New York Medical Society and New York County Medical Society, in all of which he takes a professional interest and

He was honorably discharged from Camp Pike shortly after the Armistice. He was elected to the House of Representatives in 1919, re-elected in 1923, and was Chairman of the Committee to Investigate State Officers during the following Legislature. Representative Corban is a Democrat; a member of the Methodist Church, being one of the Stewards at Fayette; a 32d degree Mason; a Shriner; and a Woodman of the World.

JEFFERSON DAVIS COUNTY

JAMES EDGAR LEE, of Prentiss, was born in Lawrence County, January 27, 1900. He is the son of James Madison Lee and Mary Elura (Bass) Lee. The paternal grandparents were Thomas Lee and his wife, Marium Lee. The mother of James Edgar Lee is the daughter of John Bass and his wife, Mary Jane Bass, and they lived at Blountville, in Lawrence County. James Madison Lee was born at Mt. Carmel, in Lawrence County, where he lived till 1900. Since that time he has lived five miles north of Prentiss. Thomas Lee, the grandfather, came from South Carolina to Mississippi in 1854. He served in the Civil War, was married to Marium Bridges, and seven children were born to them, James Madison being the oldest. James Edgar Lee was educated in the public schools of Prentiss, Mississippi College, and Millsaps College where he won a medal in an oratorical contest. He served as a private in the World War, is a Democrat and a Baptist, and was elected to the House of Representatives in 1923.

JONES COUNTY

JEFF COLLINS, of Laurel, Representative from Jones County, was born Nov. 23, 1881, at Soso, Miss., in Jones County. His father, Clay C. Collins, who devoted his life to farming, was also a native of Soso, the son of Vincent A. Collins and Nancy Collins of that place. When a small boy Vincent A. Collins was brought by his father, Simeon Collins, from Alabama to Mississippi. Simeon Collins was one of the first settlers of Jones County. He was of Irish descent. Vincent A. Collins, the grand-

BATTLE HYMN OF THE LEES

(TUNE: "BATTLE HYMN OF THE REPUBLIC")

The Ancient Lees of England raised their standards to the sky;
They held their name in honor and their aims were ever high;
They always did their duty and were not afraid to die.
The clan goes marching on!

Chorus: Glory to our grand old family,
Virile, worthy, brave and loyal!
Lee - "Non in-cau-tus futuri!"
The clan goes marching on.

Hugh de Lega was the ancient father of our clan;
Posterity of Thomas, John and Henry never ran;
Richard was quite virile, William was a sturdy man.
The clan goes marching on!

Launcelot at Hastings, with King William, was at hand;
Li-o-nel with Richard Coeur de Leon's Christian band,
In crusades 'against the moslems bravely marched to Holy Land.
The clan goes marching on!

Richard was chief justice, everything he said he meant;
Timothy, a minute man, to danger bravely went;
Richard Lee and Francis signed a famous document.
The clan goes marching on!

Richard was Lord Mayor; John was chaplain to the king;
Noah, Charles and Harry wouldn't halt for anything,
'Till the righteous cause was won and bells of freedom ring.
The clan goes marching on!

Robert was a gentleman - hero of Dixie-Land;
When called to duty by the state he loved he took his stand;
Though cause be lost we lead or follow as we understand.
The clan goes marching on!

Lees bravely fought at Flodden, Gettysburg and Waterlloo;
In every righteous cause our kinsmen fought as heroes do;
They died in seventeen seventy-six, and nineteen eighteen, too.
The clan goes marching on!

The Clan of Lee is mighty with three hundred thousand strong;
In seventy-six, eight hundred kinsmen fought to right a wrong;
Fifty towns now bear our name. Sure, let us sing that song -
The clan goes marching on!

JOSEPH JARVIS LEE

Joseph Jarvis Lee was born May 10, 1866 to Green Barry and Julyan Tyson Lee. On December 28, 1887 he married Ida McLemore and his brother Nathan married Ida's sister Florence. They were the daughters of John and Ellen Callahan McLemore. I talked with a person who attended that wedding and he told me it was the biggest event to take place in that part of the county. John McLemore was a photographer and owned a large home in the community we know as Morriston. The house had a large area in front called "the stomp" where the horses and buggy or waggons were parked. This was completely covered with horses. It was a beautiful wedding.

Joe and Ida homesteaded a tract of land in Leeville and had four sons and three daughters: Joseph Claude; Floyd Leroy; Clyde Jarvis; Bura John; Maude, Ollie and Velma. Joe died June 28, 1904 and Ida died July 1, 1919. They are buried in a small cemetery on the land they homesteaded. Ida was born January 9, 1868.

NATHAN LEE

Nathan Nathaniel Lee was born to Green Berry and Julyan Tyson Lee, September 10, 1857 and married Florence N. T. McLeMore in a double wedding ceremony with Joe (his brother) and Ida, Florence's sister on December 28, 1887. They homesteaded land in Leeville and lived to see all their children grown. Nath was a hard working, honest person. I remember hearing my father, Clyde Jarvis Lee tell of hearing Uncle Nath tell of the time he took a "raft of logs" down the river to Pascagoula. After he was paid for the logs he was standing downstairs under the window where the bookkeeper was working and looked down to see a large roll of bills lying on the walk. He picked them up, walked back up stairs and as he approached the desk the bookkeeper said, "We make no mistakes in this office, you got your money, now get out." Uncle Nath threw the money on the desk and replied, "This was lying on the walk under your window and I think it belongs to this company." He walked out before the bookkeeper could overcome his shock. After Joe died, Uncle Nath became like a father to Joe and Ida's children.

Nath and Florence had nine children: Stanley Napoleon; Nathan Valverda; Elroy Lloyd; Rachel Oliva; Chevis Millard; Mittie Alphretta; John Otis; Scott Estus and Ellen Azaline.

Nath died September 5, 1929 and Florence died January 4, 1929. They are buried in the Leeville Cemetery back of Leeville Baptist Church. Florence was born September 10, 1862

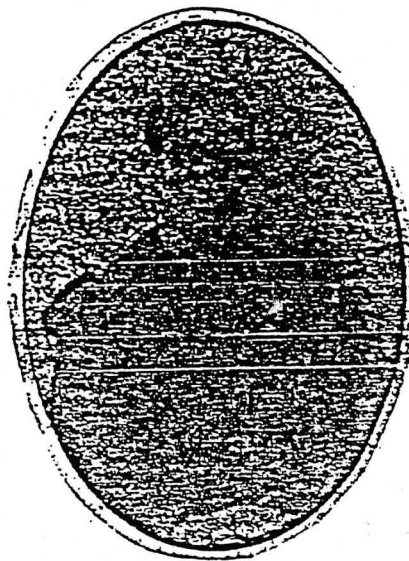

GREEN BERRY LEE

SON OF

NATHANIEL & SARAH CHANE LEE

WIFE OF

7-

Phebe Elizabeth, second daughter of Nathaniel and Sarah was born in 1839. She married John Flynt.

Seburn, born in 1843 must have remained in Covington County in the Saratoga Community. I have no information on him, except the 1880 Covington County Census.

John N. born in 1846 died in 1893 and was the first to be buried in the Green Lee Cemetery.

Liddie Ann, born in 1847 married Coop Rutland.

Henry Solomon (Bud) Lee was born August 17, 1850. He married Elender Jane Yates, born November 11, 1855. They had Sadie who married a Hall; Joe; Green Berry; Rob and Levi. Bud died October 19, 1908; Jane, August 6, 1938 and both are buried in the Green Lee Cemetery. Levi married Jane Patterson. They had 13 children and lived in Lamar County, west of Sumrall, Mississippi.

Aaron R. Lee was Nathaniel and Sarah's last child. He was born July 13, 1853 and died December 21, 1895. He, Sarah, who died in May of 1860, and Nathaniel are all buried in the Chappell Cemetery on Leeville Road, north Petal, Mississippi.

Picture of Chappell Cemetery for here.

Addie Lee married Jim Bullock. They had one son, Joseph Albert, born January 22, 1902. He married Margaret McDonald, born December 18, 1909 and they have one son Nathan.

Betty, second daughter of Marion and Candice Odom Lee, also married a Bullock; his name was Joe. They had five children. I have information only on the daughter, Catherine who married W. M. Williams and lived in Mobile Alabama. Their children were: Gladys, Christine, W. M. Jr., and Fred D. Padgett. Betty died in 1970.

Grandpa - Will Lee, son of Marion and Candice left home at the age of ten years. No one heard from him for many, many years. One day he returned to Mississippi with a wife, named Mattie and two children, Franklin and Gertrude. After visiting family and friends they returned to Texas and no one has heard from them since.

Joe married Nora McKenzie. They had seven children: Robert Marion; Eula Mae; Alford; Earl; Earther; Arthur; and Jesse, born August 25, 1917. Jesse married Aubine Lott, born April 13, 1923 and they have three children: Linda Faye, born August 4, 1947; Charlotte, born August 16, 1950 and Jesse Daniel born May 12, 1959.

Robert Guiton Lee known as Rob married Maggie Mallisie Rogers on April 19, 1896. She was the daughter of Willis and N. E. Rogers. Maggie was born August 22, 1877. To this couple were born the following children: Mae, born April 26, 1898; Etta, born September 23, 1899; Ben, born February 1, 1902; Archie born June 25, 1905; Hugh, born June 27, 1909; Lonnie born August 25, 1911; Mack, birth unknown; and Ruth born February 8, 1913. Rob died September 9, 1941 and Maggie died March 28, 1970. Both are buried in the Greens Creek Church Cemetery in Petal.

*Etta was Lawson -
2 children*

Nathaniel Morgan Lee was born in 1830 and known as Morg. He was the progenitor of J. M. and Alex Lee. Morg was killed in about 1884.

Green Berry Lee was born November 17, 1831 in Hinds County Mississippi. Green found his wife in a field in Alabama! He had been to Georgia to visit relatives and was returning to Mississippi. Remember there were no Interstate Highways in those days. People traveled on horseback and took time to talk with those they passed on the way. Green liked the looks of this young girl and asked her to come to Mississippi as his wife. She agreed and they went to ask her father. Mr. Tyson told Green he did not know what he was asking for; this girl had to be whipped often. Green assured the father he could whip her when needed and off they rode to Perry County Mississippi. Green's Bible list her as Julyan Tyson born July 13, 1841. September 16, 1857 this couple became the parents of a son, Nathan Nathaniel Lee. In 1861 a daughter was born and named Sarah. Green served as a private in Company E, Seventeenth Battalion, Ninth Regiment of Mississippi Calvary during the Civil War. Commanding Officer was General Nathan B. Forrest. May 10, 1866 Joseph Jarvis Lee came into this family. Mary Etta in 1868 (Green was in Marietta, Georgia during the war and said it was the prettiest town he had ever seen and chose Mary Etta as the name for this daughter). William Robert was born February 27, 1871. Jess came in 1872. Frank in 1875 and the sixth son, Horace was born in 1878. This family lived in North Perry County, now known as Forrest County, in what is known today as LEEVILLE. Green died March 20, 1908 and Julee (as Green called her) died December 21, 1919. Both are buried in the Green Lee Cemetery on property they owned.

Nothing is known of William G. Lee the third son of Nathaniel and Sarah Lee. He was born in 1835.

Jessima Jane, born in 1837, late in life became the second wife of Josiah McLemore.

Great Grandpa Josiah Marion, ^{Lee} born in 1840 married Candice Odom. They had two daughters, Addie and Betty and three sons, Will, Joe and Robert Guiton, born March 27, 1872. See the following page for information on these children of Josiah Marion and Candice Odom Lee.

Sewel Lee - grand dad.

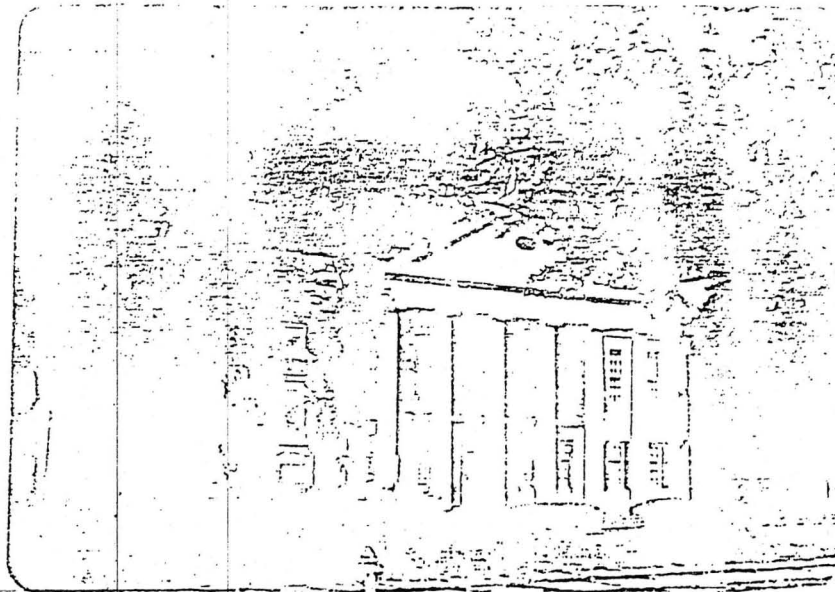

In 1837 Nathaniel Lee deeded to Lydia (his sister) and her husband, Thomas Goldman land in Clarke County.

In 1850 census records listed for the first time the names and ages of all family members. Prior to this only the head of the family was listed by name. In the Covington County 1850 census we find:

Great Great Grandfather	¹⁸⁰⁹⁻¹⁸⁴⁰ Nathaniel Lee	Age 41	Farmer	place of birth Ga.
	¹⁸¹⁵⁻¹⁸⁶⁰ Sarah Lee	35		La.
	Nathaniel M. Lee	10 M		Miss.

I enjoyed seeing that laborer living with Nathaniel and Sarah. My father always kept someone living with us to help do his work.

November 12, 1855 the Land Office at Augusta, Mississippi issued Receipt No. 12807 to Nathaniel Lee, Jones County Mississippi Lot No. One of Section No. Three in Township Five N., of Range No. Thirteen West containing Fifty acres at the rate of 12½ cents per acre, amounting to six dollars and 37½ cents. Sometime after this they moved in to Perry (now Forrest) County; land that now is on Highway 11, west of Leeville. Later they lived about one mile east of Green's Creek Church.

HINDS COUNTY COURTHOUSE RAYMOND, MISS.

Volume 4 page 161 of the Land Records shows Nathaniel paid $280.00 for the west half of the N.E. quarter of Section 11 Township 3 and the north half of the east half of N.W. quarter of Section 11 Township 3. Date of this record is September 27, 1834.

Volume 5 page 437 records Nathaniel and Sarah Lee selling to Abraham McGehee of Montgomery County, Alabama 254 acres for $1530.00. The record reads, west half N.E. quarter, Section 11 Township 3 range 2 west in the district of Choctaw and state of Mississippi. Date, September 5, 1835. On September 8, 1835 volume 5 page 565 we find Nathaniel bought 79 acres at a price of $400.00. This is the east half of the S.W. quarter, Section 10 Township 3 Range 2, District of Choctaw.

There are many other transactions listed in those old books, until 1837. History tells us a depression hit Mississippi in that year and many people moved to other parts of the country to begin anew. Sarah and Nathaniel took their family to southeast Mississippi. Their children are as recorded on the following pages.

"HE WHO CARETH NOT WHERE HE CAME, CARETH
BUT LITTLE WHETHER HE GOETH"

Genealogical research, like the babbling brook, goes on forever and the extent of information gleaned through a painstaking examination of the records, visiting older family members and cemeteries, is limited to the measure of time and labor expended. Oh! the joy and excitement experienced when a name or date or place, long searched for, is discovered!

The origin of the LEE Family stems from Reginald de la Lee, who was of Norman ancestry and made his home in the English village of Shropshire in 1195. Members of the LEE family attained distinction in the important posts they held through the centuries. Among them were no less than eight High Sheriffs of Shropshire from 1201 to 1639. In 1640 Richard Lee of Shropshire came to America and established his home in Virginia. Many other LEES came settling in all parts of the new world. In America the LEES continued to play important roles in history. Thomas Jefferson once said, "No family has given more men of courage and leadership than the LEE Family." Richard Henry Lee and Francis Lightfoot Lee signed the Declaration of Independence. "Light Horse" Harry Lee had a brilliant record in the American Revolution. Robert E. Lee was a beloved General in the Civil War. LEES have served America in all wars since that time, and held many public offices.

In 1809, the year Abraham Lincoln was born, L. Nathaniel Lee was born in the state of Georgia. Records in the beautiful old Hinds County Courthouse at Raymond, Mississippi tell us he obtained a marriage license on January 2, 1830 to marry Sarah Chane. Abraham Puckett was bondsman. They were married January 19, 1830 by James B. Satterfield, J.P. Nathaniel was the first Lee man to marry in Hinds County. This information is recorded in Book 1 pages 84 and 85. This same book shows Nathaniel Lee was bondsman for several weddings including Thomas Golman and Lydia Lee, May 3, 1830 and Thomas Long and Sarah Lee, November 24, 1830.

Miss Mildred Lee.

DAR ID Number: 7443

Born in Virginia.

Descendant of Hon. Henry Lee and of Maj. Gen. Henry Lee, of Virginia.

Daughter of Gen. Robert Edward Lee and Mary Custis, his wife.

Granddaughter of Henry Lee and Anne Carter, his wife.

Gr.-granddaughter of Henry Lee and Lucy Grymes, his wife.

Henry Lee, 1774, was a member of the House of Burgesses and during the war an active patriot.

Also Nos. 1105, 3453.

Henry Lee before he was of age was captain of Cavalry. His skill and daring soon made him famous and he is known as "Light Horse Harry." In 1779 he surprised and captured Paulus Hook (Jersey City), and for his prudence, address and bravery Congress gave him a vote of thanks and a gold medal. He served until after the surrender at Yorktown.

MISSISSIPPI MOTION

Drive For Campaign Funds Is Arranged

Jackson, Miss., Sept. 15.—Mississippi Democrats are going to organize in every one of the more than 1500 precincts in their drive for campaign funds for the National Democratic party, Lieutenant-Governor J. B. Snider, chairman of the state finance committee for the national party, announced tonight.

Organization directors will be named in each of the seven congressional districts, and the district directors will name county directors. The county directors will perfect the precinct organizations.

R. E. Kennington, Jackson merchant, has been named state treasurer. A state headquarters will be opened in Jackson, with Walter Pate of Jackson in charge.

"A drive will be made in the second week in October for the purpose of raising the entire quota that week," said Lieutenant-Governor Snider. "The funds contributed by Mississippians must be in the hands of Forbes Morgan, national treasurer, by October 15."

The state finance committee consists of Chairman Snider, Mrs. John Boles Robinson of Canton and Walter Pate, vice-chairman; Treasurer Kennington, and Dick Dunn of Hattiesburg, Henry Hart of Winona, John Petty of Greenwood, Billy Wynn of Greenville, Mayor Walter A. Scott of

Jackson County Fair Officials Chosen; Dates Set

Pascagoula, Miss., Sept. 16.—Directors of the Jackson County Agricultural and Industrial Fair, meeting here, elected the following officers and managers: W. B. Herring, chairman; R. M. Spaulding, vice chairman; A. J. Frankl, secretary and general manager; J. B. Gibson, manager of general agricultural exhibits; Albert Taylor, manager poultry department; Miss Blanche Goad, superintendent of home economics building; J. G. Leath-erbury, general superintendent of grounds.

The dates of the fair were fixed as Thursday and Friday, November 12 and 13. Rules one and two were amended to read as follows:

Rule 1. The exhibits competing for prizes must be produced and owned by the person exhibiting same. This rule will be strictly adhered to, and anyone violating the same will be barred from competing for a prize.

Rule 2. All exhibits must be in place by noon on Thursday, November 12, and must remain in place until 9 p. m. Friday, November 13.

A special meeting of the board is called for Saturday at 10 a. m. in the courthouse, and representatives of all schools and communities which intend to have exhibits at the fair are requested to be present so that some understanding may be had as to the nature of the exhibits from the various schools, giving each community an opportunity of making an exhibit of the agricultural or industrial features of the community, so that there may be no duplication of effort.

W. B. Herring, as chairman of the board, was authorized to invite Governor Hugh White to visit the fair and address the citizens of Jackson county.

Statewide Service For Certification Sweet Potatoes

Shipping point grading and inspection of sweet potatoes, available in all counties and for the first time, is announced by J. C. Holton, commissioner of agriculture, as a means of enabling farmers to avail themselves of attractive out-of-state market and build a new source of cash income in line with that of nearby states.

Citing the fact that southern varieties of sweet potatoes are favorites on northern markets, Commissioner Holton said that in the Federal report of September 11, Southern USI sweets sold on northern markets at from $1.60 to $1.85 per bushel crate, with

Albert E. Lee Editor of The Times, Passes

A. E. Lee, editor and publisher of The Jackson County Times died at 4 a. m. Saturday, September 12, 1936. Mr. Lee was 63 years old. He was a native of Iowa but a resident of Ocean Springs for nearly 40 years. Although not enjoying good health for the past several years, he was confined to his home only three weeks.

During his residence in Ocean Springs he edited and published three different newspapers. His first adventure was The Progress, then after the plant burned down he established The News which he sold to Thomas Ewing Dabney and later re-bought it and established The Jackson County Times, which is now in its 21st volume. He was a master printer who learned his trade under his father who came south with him but died a few years later in Hammond, La., where they published the Hammond Vindicator.

Deceased was a public-spirited citizen and at various times was a leader in several organizations of civic benefit. He loved music and at one time was band leader of the old Ocean Springs brass band which has been disbanded for several years. He also served as a member of the school board; was an election commissioner, charter member of the local Rotary club and was president of that club during his last year as an active member. He was a member of the Miss. Gulf Coast Publishers Association and the Miss. Press Association. Although not able to attend meetings of other local civic organizations he let it be known that his services as publisher were at their disposal at all times.

When Ocean Springs contemplated the erection of a local electric light and power plant he took an active part in an editorial way to defeat the idea which resulted in the savings of thousands of dollars to tax payers and electric consumers of the town. He devoted his columns to the end that all legislation for the good of the community should be enacted and was always alert to sponsor only those things that resulted in advancement of the adopted home town which he dearly loved. He was analytical and enjoyed the confidence and esteem of all his fellow citizens, many of whom sought his level-headed analysis and advice on various matters. He gained his education mostly by the rough road of practical experience, due to his having to work as a mere

Farm Debt Committee Will Hold Conference

A regular meeting of the Jackson county farm debt adjustment committee will be held at the County Agent's office in Pascagoula at 3 p. m., Friday, September 25, it was announced here today by J. B. Gibson, chairman of the body.

The committee, which works on a voluntary basis under the State Agricultural Advisory Council and the Farm Debt Adjustment unit of the Resettlement Administration, brings worthy, debt-burdened farmers and their creditors together in an effort to work out new agreements and understandings that will allay the threat of foreclosure. Services of the committee are available without cost to the farmers of this county. Further details can be secured by contacting the chairman of the committee or the county Resettlement supervisor.

the program; the appropriation of state funds necessary for said program; and many other matters that may be submitted by the Governor for consideration during said extraordinary session."

In the extraordinary session of the legislature at Jackson there are three new members in the lower House. They are: Mrs. Horace Stansel of Ruleville, elected several months ago from Sunflower county to succeed her late husband, Horace S. Stansel; W. E. Garland of Crystal Springs, elected in Copiah county to succeed former Representative Jack Sullivan; and former Senator Earl Richardson of Philadelphia, elected from Neshoba county, to succeed Dr. J. S. Hickman, who resigned at the close of last session to accept the superintendency of the East Mississippi Hospital for the Insane at Meridian.

The Mississippi Supreme Court opened its fall session last Monday, September 14, and the first days' session was marked by memorial services for members of the state bar, who have died during the past year, which ceremonies were in charge of the State Bar Association.

ties of sweet potatoes are favorites on northern markets, Commissioner Holton said that in the Federal report of September 11, Southern USI sweets sold on northern markets at from $1.60 to $1.85 per bushel crate, with a few as low as $1.50. Freight costs, commissions, drayage and packages will total from 50 cents to 70 cents per bushel, leaving a nice profit for No. 1 sweet potatoes direct from the field.

"The total yield of sweet potatoes in Mississippi will compare with that of any other state, but to September 5th, this year, Alabama has shipped 294 cars, Louisiana 423 cars, Mississippi 57 cars. Last season, Alabama shipped 351 cars, Tennessee 1,292 cars, Louisiana 2,728 cars, and Mississippi 82 cars.

"What the price of sweet potatoes will be in the future is, of course, impossible to say at this time, but the prospect seems favorable now, and year in and year out the price will be in line with that of other food products. Farmers of the United States have found this market attractive over a long period of years, 11,007 carloads being reported for last year.

"No state can produce sweet potatoes more abundantly or of better quality than Mississippi, and our shipments could be multiplied many times from the crop now maturing. The market requires quality, and one pre-requisite is proper grading and standardization. We have not been able to offer Federal-State inspection service in the past, because isolated shipments mean prohibitive cost. This year, however, we have made arrangements so that any and every carload of sweet potatoes in the state of Mississippi may receive this necessary inspection and grade certification service at a cost of not exceeding five dollars per car. I hope that in this manner we may begin the building of a new and worth-while industry that may mean hundreds of thousands of dollars annually of new money to Mississippi farmers."

whom sought his level-headed analysis and advice on various matters. He gained his education mostly by the rough road of practical experience, due to his having to work as a mere boy to help earn a living for his family.

His rule as a publisher was to give his subscribers a paper that they could call their own. One that opened its columns to all local factions with the same consideration. He established no editorial policy with an idea of gaining recognition as a writer. His interests were purely local.

Mr. Lee was a devoted husband and father. While not an active member of any religious organization his love for mankind, his many deeds of kindness and his useful life as a father and provider marked him a soul destined to receive whatever reward his Almighty Maker in the Great Beyond could bestow upon such a good man.

He is survived by his wife who was at his bedside until death, and three children, Mrs. R. V. Worthington, Humboldt, Iowa; Mark Lee, Souix City, Iowa; and Harry Lee, Ocean Springs. The latter being associated with him for the past fifteen years in the publication of The Times. Besides his immediate family he also leaves four brothers whose whereabouts are scattered throughout the north and northwest; also three grandchildren.

The funeral was held Monday afternoon at three o'clock with brief services at the home on Iberville Avenue and at the grave in Evergreen Cemetery, conducted by Rev. J. E. Barnes of the Baptist church. Active pallbearers were Albert Gottsche, A. P. Moran, Morris McClure, Oscar Joachim, Charles E. Clark, Charles R. Bennett. Honorary pallbearers were S. C. Spencer, Oscar Davis, Dr. O. L. Bailey, Dr. F. O. Schmidt, George E. Arndt, Sr., Frank E. Schmidt, Ben O'Keefe, Chester Davis, Roy Riviere, Herbert Kolb, Fred Taylor, W. G. Sparkman, Sr., Bill Havens and Arthur Smith.

Floral sprays and numerous messages of sympathy came from local organizations and individuals as well as from all parts of the U. S. attesting the high esteem in which the deceased was held by all who knew and associated with him.

No doubt he will be sorely missed as one of Ocean Springs' most loyal citizens and especially by his family who were the benefactors of his never ending loyalty, devotion, and kindness that were so characteristic in his home life.

Already several local auto drivers have been arrested for driving over "8 miles per hour" passing the public schools.

Frank Riviere, pharmacist, formerly employed at Bailey's Drug Store for several years and Eddie's Drug Store, Biloxi, is now connected with the Palace Pharmacy in Pascagoula where he will be glad to greet his many friends of Ocean Springs who visit the County Seat.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Forbes of Pensacola, Fla. were in Ocean Springs Saturday through Monday to attend the funeral of editor A. E. Lee. Mrs. Forbes is a sister of Mrs. A. E. Lee.

The Legion Auxiliary will hold their regular meeting at the Community House Wednesday, September 23. All members are urged to be present.

Mr. and Mrs. Otis Neff are the proud parents of a second son, born Monday night, September 12, at the Biloxi Hospital.

The St. Alphonsus Card Club will meet at the home of Miss Annie Eglin, Washington Avenue, Thursday, September 24 at 2:30 p. m. Bridge, five-hundred and euchre will be played. The hostesses are Mrs. Oscar Davis, Mrs. E. Cavanaugh, Mrs. J. Murphy, Miss Adelle Brou. Residents and visitors are cordially invited to attend.

There will be a luncheon Thursday, September 24th at the St. Alphonsus school grounds. Good things to eat. Everyone is invited to come and have dinner.

E. V. Jacoby and wife of Oxford, Miss. are guests of Mrs. Jacoby's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dave Davis.

Mrs. Mable Beaugez and children, Crystelle and Ralph, Jr. left Friday for Mobile, where they expect to make their home.

Mr. and Mrs. Ambrose Fayard and daughter, Jean, and young niece, Hazel Beaugez, have moved to Pascagoula, where Mr. Fayard will be employed by the L. & N. Railroad.

CARD OF THANKS

To all who sent flowers, to all who were so kind and thoughtful and performed many deeds of kindness, and to all who so warmly expressed sympathy to us during the illness and at the death and burial of our husband and father, A. E. Lee, we take this means of expressing through the columns of The Times our deepest gratitude.

To Dr. O. L. Bailey, Dr. F. O. Schmidt and O'Keefe Undertakers do we especially thank for medical attention and funeral arrangements respectively. To one and all we assure that such acts, thoughts and expressions will never be forgotten.

Rotary Club Holds Interesting Meeting

At the regular meeting of the Ocean Springs Rotary Club held at the French Hotel Wednesday noon, almost a full membership was present.

Following the luncheon, president H. P. Plateau announced that the meeting was a business one, and he led a discussion on highway beautification which resulted in the appointment of a committee to foster the project. Another committee was appointed to contact the Biloxi Rotary club with reference to joint meetings to be held throughout the year.

Rotarian Walter White of Biloxi made his attendance with the local club, and William E. Applegate was welcomed as a baby member. James Wilson of Gulf Hills was introduced as a guest of Morris McClure.

The birthdays of Morris McClure and V. G. Humphrey were observed, following which the club stood at a few seconds silence in respect to one of its deceased charter members, A. E. Lee, whose death occurred last Saturday.

The last, but one of the best picnics given by the Homemakers Club this summer, was held on Thursday afternoon, September 10th, at the lovely country home of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Akely on Old Fort Bayou. In spite of the inclemency of the weather the twenty three persons who attended experienced a most delightful afternoon in eating the delectable goodies prepared by these good cooks, and the social time after the eats, so much so that it was a late hour when the last of the picknickers left. It was a very fitting occasion for a wind-up of the good times this club has had—rather like the dessert after a very satisfying meal. The first regular meeting of the Homemakers Club will be held at the home of Mrs. Marc Kean on Porter Avenue, on Monday afternoon, October 5th. Quotations "Summer experiences."

of course are duck soup to politicians. A similar "modern" building insults the eye in beautiful Garfield Park.

The ancient limestone water tower at Chicago Avenue and Lake Shore Drive has escaped the hands of political demolishers only after powerful fights by groups of prominent citizens.

Just the other day the first gas tank constructed in Chicago, a large, fortress-like brick affair, was razed—and it failed to keep a diary or write a book of memoirs.

A tavern building out Milwaukee Avenue in which it is claimed Lincoln spent a night was torn down during the last real estate boom.

The famous Potter Palmer residence is scheduled to go crash, if it hasn't already.

Fire destroyed the Stock Yards Amphitheatre about two years ago. The old Union Depot has been replaced.

The old Board of Trade building is off the earth, and where it stood now towers a modern exchange headquarters that almost reaches the stratosphere.

The Illinois Bank Building, on which the Goodyear balloon fell around the time of the World War, with heavy loss of life, is scuttled and replaced.

We do retain some interesting landmarks, such as the old Coliseum, the Montgomery Ward building, the Art Institute, the central post office, some residences that date back to Civil War times, a few ancient armories, the Pullman plant and employees' buildings and statues erected in the early days of Chicago.

There is a disposition on the part of people in this town to look upon anything old as trashy and not worth saving. Many old residences and flat buildings left standing in what became slum districts are being demolished by government and city wrecking crews. To some extent this activity is justified, but I would like to see a few of those sturdily constructed buildings of seventy-five or more years ago left standing and taken considerable care of. We can best take note of our progress by having available some of the handicraft of our early days. You can't place whole buildings in museums; you've got to leave 'em where they were piled up by the workmen of generations ago. We'll not have the complete story here in Chicago if we do not supplement the exhibits in the Field Museum with the larger, immovable, outdoor exhibits that we could accumulate by not spending but by saving.

Sincerely,
LORENTZ R. OLSEN

An Editor Passes

As we prepare this edition of our paper, we can't help but call to mind the passing of one of our brilliant contemporary editors—Albert E. Lee—publisher of the Jackson County Times in Ocean Springs. His emise is fresh in our memory, as only yesterday he was laid to rest, having completed his life's work among us.

It is seldom that a man's virtues are recognized until after he has gone; and so it is that we do not expect to fully recognize his value and importance now. He was a splendid example of character and accomplishment. He was a devoted husband and father in his home life. He was a kind and helping neighbor and a leader in the community in which he spent most of his life. Until ill health, aggravated by the strain of his tireless efforts, forced him to curtail his activities after years of service to the public, he played a prominent part in Ocean Springs' upbuilding. There was no movement for the betterment of Ocean Springs in which he did not figure prominently.

Those of us who knew him in his chosen field of journalism respected his wisdom and ability, as well as the quality of his work. He was a staunch adherent of the highest principles of journalism. He was guided by the conscience which distinguished right from wrong, and never was he found unethical. He gave those whom he served the best, and he served them well, working towards their interest. He was regarded as being highly successful in the limited field his community provided. He might have gone on and risen to greater heights where the fields were richer and wider, but instead, he chose to remain and continue serving those with whom he had been so long associated.

It is seldom that we find men like him, and losing him will be felt heavily by the newspaper profession.—The Biloxi News.

Notes And Comments

Principles are often what you read about in a book.

The business in Ocean Springs belongs to the merchants of this municipality but nobody is going to give it to them on a silver platter.

With the millions of recipes that the newspapers print it would seem possible for almost any housewife to feed her brutes well.

Correct this sentence: "Of course, I had the right of way, but then the other driver seemed to be in a hurry and I let him pass."

As far as we are concerned we are perfectly willing to abide by the vote of the American people when it comes to electing a president.

"When you hear that somebody has said something mean about you excuse it on the ground that all people are not smart enough to understand everything.

Why not let Hitler and Mussolini fight it out for the world's championship and thus settle the thing without waiting for Schmeling and Brad-dock to get together.

The Extra ordinary session of the Legislature convened in Jackson at 2 o'clock p. m., Monday, Sept. 14th.

Following roll call three new members were escorted to the Speaker's stand and sworn in. They were: Mrs. Pearl Stansel, of Sunflower, W. E. Garland, Copiah, and Earl Richardson, of Neshoba.

Shine Morgan presided during the selection of a speaker, a vacancy existing by the death of Speaker Horace Stansel. Fielding Wright was put in nomination by Mrs. Pearl Stansel, widow of the late speaker, Representative Sam Lumpkin of Lee seconded the nomination, and election was by acclamation.

The Legislature got off to an immediate start, minor appropriation bills being passed at once—one calling for the expenses of the extraordinary session, one to support and equip the medical school at the university, and to repay a loan for work done at the mansion. Another appropriation was made to cover cost of purchase of automobile tags, and to repay funds borrowed used by National Guards in emergency cases. These were passed by the House, and most of them have already been acted upon favorably by the Senate.

Monday night, Sept. 14, a joint legislative session was held and Governor White outlined his plan to balance Industry with agriculture.

Tuesday Sept. 15 the House held a memorial service in respect of late Speaker Horace Stansel.

The discussion of the Industrial measure began early in both houses. The Senate disposed of it in short order. The House debated it several days, the bill finally passing the House late Thursday afternoon. The Senate concurred in the House amendments and the bill was oked and sent to the Governor.

The State Highway Commission is advertising the 11th contract letting of the forty two million dollar road program, for October 6th, at which time $3, 000,000 worth of highway projects consisting of grading, paving, bridges, canals, etc., will be let.

A Tribute To Editor A. E. Lee

(By a "Shut-In")

Mr. A. E. Lee, editor and publisher of the Jackson County Times passed on to be with Jesus at 4 a. m. Saturday September 12, 1936.

"If ye loved me; ye would have rejoiced because I go," John 14: 28.

We have nothing to cause us grief to-day but the sense of our great loss.

Mr. Lee was one of God's noble men. His kindness, his goodness, his gentle sincerity and kindly cheerful ways endeared him to all. He had a Royal Spirit. He was loyal to all his ideals, which he exhibited in every relationship, his ideals were fixed and unmistakable. He was true to them. It determined his out-look on life, his attitude toward his fellow-men.

What a high gift it is to have the capacity for friendship, "Jesus charged his disciples thus," "I say unto you make to yourselves friends."

Mr. Lee made friends. They were his life possessions and he added to their number as long as he lived. This because he was loyal, sincere and true to them. Mr. Lee was a devoted husband and father, his home was a place where the most fragrant blossoms grew unafraid of chill and frost, citizens and friends sought him out cherishing his companionship and advice. There are friends in every walk of life left to mourn his going.

Mr. Lee was loyal to every interest of Ocean Springs, being a great leader of civic benefit, his heart delighted to serve and give its best in the work he loved so well. He will be sorely missed by all, especially his family. But we know this world has been made a better place by his having lived in it. But the vision of this world which he loved and served so nobly has closed. On September 12, 1936, his eyes opened upon the vision of the King and upon the Holy City the New Jerusalem where the glory of the Lord makes the sun no longer needed.

For the Lord God shall give him light, where he shall reign forever, and forever.

May the peace of God that passeth all understandings be with loved ones who are left to mourn his loss.

From an old friend and "Shut-In" who is for better service to Him who doeth all things well.

Mr. Hitler says that Germany must put its foot down on Communism. What the Soviet organization thinks of anything that is not Red is well known. Mr. Mussolini is sure that he has the plan that should be followed by a weary and bewildered world. A college president in the United States believes that we must constantly have in mind that facism and communism are common foes of a democratic society, and be equally unsympathetic with either. Solomon is responsible for the maxim that in a multitude of counselors there is wisdom, which is good stuff unless modified by Pope's question a few thousand years later: "Who shall decide when doctors disagree?" The doctors do not seem to be in accord, and until they are, the American patient will do well to be his own physician and throw out all nostrums that have been compounded from European prescriptions.

If Congress sees fit to make the necessary appropriation, next spring will mark the beginning of air mail service across the Atlantic. A bunch of English flowers then can be delivered in New Jersey before they have withered. They would have wilted considerably on a similar trip in 1864. In that year, the sailing vessel York-shire got into the papers by crossing in sixteen days, and steamships were doing but little better.

The sum of eight hundred thousand dollars was spent by men in Washington, D. C. last year for haircuts, shaves and manicures, according to the Census Bureau, an item that suggests several things. In the first place, who will own up to the manicures? Then it is to be remarked that the government has a watchful eye. Not a brushful of lather escapes its notice. Why have bald headed men not banded together in support of a sliding scale for haircuts? Surely it's worth more to cut an acre of wheat than to go around the edges of the field with a scythe. What do people do now days with bay rum? Even the literature of the barber shop has changed. It does not seem the same place with the Police Gazette gone. To a quiet man who did the job

Wayne Lee was a quiet man. He didn't like publicity. He had his job to do in the grocery business, and he did it, probably better than most anyone.

He was a success in business. But most important he was a success in his community. Hundreds and hundreds of people came by to pay their respects after Wayne Lee died this week. He had touched their lives in so many different ways.

Most people knew about Wayne Lee. He was a one-armed grocer who worked like a trojan and made a little corner grocery into one of Mississippi's booming supermarkets.

He lost his left arm in an auto accident in 1953, so he was an inspiration to handicapped persons.

He had a deep interest in youngsters. He supported scouting, sponsored ball teams in all leagues, backed the 4-H programs, and too many others to mention.

He was a community man, active in many civic endeavors, but always on a low profile. The Mississippi Press tried several times to feature him in a "biography," a special series we have carried in the past. He didn't care for publicity about himself.

He did care a lot about others. When hurricanes hit (Camille and Betsy), he was among the first to load up convoys with ice, milk, bread, baby food and other items for hurricane victims.

He provided countless boxes of groceries to the Salvation Army to help the needy. There probably isn't a church, senior citizens, civic or athletic group in the community that hasn't received donations, discounts or special attention from Wayne Lee.

Each day he provided a copy of the Mississippi Press to patients at Singing River Hospital. He helped the hospital in many ways, which never got any mention in the press. Now his family asks that anyone who wants to remember him make a contribution to the Wayne Lee Fund at Singing River Hospital.

Wayne Lee will be missed in this community. There aren't many who are so concerned about service, not only in the operation of a business, but service to a community.

Business leader dies

Funeral services for Wayne Lee, 64, founder and owner of Wayne Lee's Grocery Stores, were held Tuesday at First Baptist Church of Pascagoula.

Many people turned out to pay their respects to the grocer who had made this area the site of his business and his home. Residing in Riverwood in Moss Point, Lee operated a supermarket on Telephone Road and recently opened another in Lucedale.

Born in Foxworth, Mississippi, Lee had early roots in the grocery store business. He began as a bag boy at the age of 13 and also made deliveries. He later became a butcher and ran a store in Columbia, Mississippi, in 1939. Friends say that he was dissatisfied with the location and came to Pascagoula in 1942. His first business here was operation of a milk truck called Elsie's Milk Wagon, which traveled the Pascagoula area for several years. After that, Lee opened his first grocery store on Telephone Road, which later was replaced with a large supermarket.

Lee was known for his generosity and he assisted many charities. He was also a member of Elks Lodge 1120, Sons of the American Revolution, Pascagoula-Moss Point Chamber of Commerce, and was selected as the king of the Elks Carnival Ball and the Young Men's Business Club Carnival Ball. He was also a member of the First Baptist Church of Pascagoula.

Wayne Lee's survivors include his wife, Juanita "Nita" Bracey Lee of Moss Point; two sons, Jerry L. Lee of Pascagoula and Perry Wayne Lee of Moss Point; three daughters, Deborah Waynette Dunlap of Pascagoula, Romona Gayle Broom of Moss Point, and Sudy Krebs of Pascagoula. He is also survived by three brothers, S. H. Lee and Lavelle Lee, both of Pascagoula, and Charles Ray Lee of Columbia; and one sister, Wava Upton of Columbia.

Entombment was at Jackson County Memorial Park.

Kihyet, Dagget, Lee, Dickson

County businessmen forged new path

By TOM DONNELLY
Mississippi Press Business Editor

The formal opening of Kihyet's Super Food Market at the corner of Delmas Avenue and Pascagoula Street on Oct. 20, 1939, opened a new era in the grocery business.

"It was the biggest supermarket in the state of Mississippi," says Jamile Kihyet, one of two surviving members of the Kihyet family that operated the store which closed in 1955.

Two "firsts" for this area introduced by the store were pushcarts for groceries and putting the meat market under the same roof with the store's grocery section.

"Back in those days, the store ... the foods ... canned goods ... was in one building and the meat market might be down the street in another building, even if it was owned by the same people.

"We put the meat market under the same roof, all of it together, before we moved into the new brick building at the corner of Delmas Avenue and Pascagoula Street," Kihyet recalled.

Thus, Kihyet's Super Food Market was a forerunner for some of today's giant discount groceries in Pas-Point such as Jerry Lee's on Ingalls Avenue and Wayne Lee's on Telephone Road.

The super food market had 10,000 square feet, and it employed 25 people, apart from owner Elias Anton Kihyet, his wife, Fannie, and four sons, Tofie, Jamile, Moneer and Anton.

Elias Anton Kihyet died in 1945. His wife died several years thereafter, and the four sons continued to run the food market. Moneer died at the age of 37 in 1951, and the surviving brothers sold the huge store in 1955 to Food Town Stores of Mobile. The Alabama chain moved the store location in 1957 to the eastern part of Pascagoula.

The patriarch of the Kihyet family, Elias Anton, first opened a fruit and vegetable stand, which also sold cigarettes, sandwiches, soda water, tobacco, fishing tackle and other assorted items, around 1910 on brick building then. And in 1939, we built the new, brick Super Food Market."

Another pioneer of the Pascagoula business district who helped lay the foundation for contemporary department stores in the area was William A. Daggett, who operated a clothing and shoe store for men and women.

His business first was located at the corner of Krebs Avenue and Kerr (Magnolia) Street. From there he moved across the railroad tracks to Delmas Avenue for expansion purpose — where the old Rosenblum Store had done business.

Area historians say Daggett's store was one of the largest department stores in Pascagoula, if not the largest, in the early 1900s.

Corner drugstores were an integral part of the downtown business communities throughout Jackson County during that time.

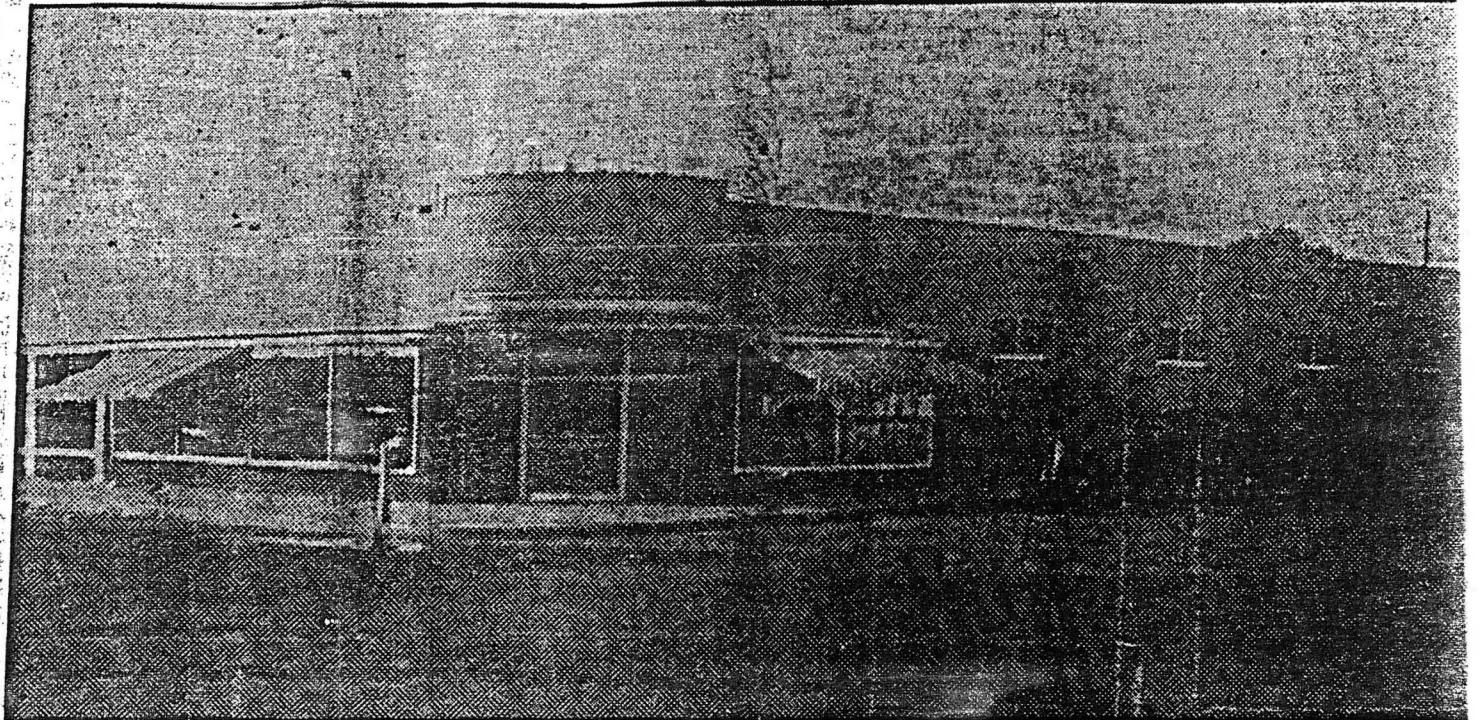

But time has removed all of them, with perhaps one or two exceptions where owners have attempted to preserve them, despite expansions and remodeling.

But it isn't the same as it was — pharmacists were druggist who mixed their own medicines and kids and businessmen perched on stools and hunched over sodas or coffee at the "soda fountain counter."

The Palace Pharmacy at Delmas Avenue and Magnolia Street and C.J. May's drugstore, one block east on Delmas Avenue, were pictures from the past in Pascagoula which somehow managed to survive until an urban renewal program in the early 1970s completely changed the inner city.

Burnham's Drugs on Main Street in Moss Point refused to relinquish all contact with the past when it was renovated, remodeled and enlarged some few years ago. Owners Bill Knight and Harry Lane kept their food counter and booths as close to the past as possible.

Main Street businessmen and professionals in the city gathered at the counter every morning to drink coffee and discuss world affairs before they began the day.

The years came and went as Lee continued to expand Wayne Lee's Grocery. In 1953, Jerry Lee returned home from the U.S. Marines to work in the business with his father.

Jerry branched out on his own in 1958 with a small grocery on east Live Oak Street. He, his wife and a teen-ager by the name of Milton Cullen operated the store, which grew so rapidly that Lee moved to Ingalls Avenue in May of 1959, where he expanded.

Shopping centers with giant chain-owned stores have been constructed all over the county during the past two decades, and the downtown business district was revamped into a shopping plaza or mini-mall.

A number of large shopping centers have been built on U.S. 90 in Gautier especially during the past two decades. That growth was capped off in 1980 with the opening of Singing River Mall, also on U.S. 90. The mall opened with 50 percent occupancy of its 101 store spaces, which contained a total of 488,064 square feet. However the opening of Sears in the mall last year increased the size to 636,053 square feet and the parking lot's 3,000 spaces in 1980 were upped to 3,500 vehicle spaces.

Sears moved onto the west side of the mall at the completion of a large construction program. The store is one of the most modern Sears stores in the U.S.

Out of the 14 malls (owned and managed by Herring Marithon Group of Dallas, Texas) the Gautier Mall was No. 1 in sales increase in 1985, and several chain-owned stores in the mall were No. 1 in sales volume within their own companies.

Confederate general

A native Virginian, Robert E. Lee resigned from the United States Army when his home state seceded from the union on April 20, 1861. On April 23 he assumed command of the military and naval forces of Virginia. He then became a military adviser to President Jefferson Davis and was made a general. Although the cause he championed was lost, Lee was the greatest general in the war. His military genius hampered though it was by lack of men and material, was a principal factor in keeping the Confederacy alive. After the war Lee became president of Washington College (now Washington and Lee University). Painting of Lee was done by William Smith and is a part of the John Hancock Mutual Life Insurance Co.'s historical art exhibition "Faces of Freedom."

Many Mississippi companies had been hurried to Pensacola early in 1861 when war broke out. Finally in January 1862, a regiment was authorized by President Jefferson Davis to be organized there at Pensacola composed of Mississippians and numbered about 27. It was formed by Col. Thomas Marshall Jones (West Point 1853 and ex-1st lieutenant U. S. Army) consisting of 10 companies from Oktibbeha, Jones, Lincoln, Leake, Covington, Perry, Lauderdale, and Monroe counties and lastly the "Twiggs Rifle Company" from Jackson County. This, now Company L, 27th Mississippi Regiment Infantry, had gone to Fowl River, Cedar Point, protecting the land area nearest Grant's Pass connecting Mobile Bay with the Mississippi Sound.

From Feb. 24, 1862, when they left their families and neighbors to go to the Mobile Bay region, began three years of travel, fighting and camp life. That summer they moved to Chattanooga, marching through the middle of that state into Kentucky to fight September '6 and capture Munfordsville. Three weeks later at Peñryville, Company L had its first casualties while driving the Yankees back a mile.

General Bragg moved his army back through east Tennessee to Chattanooga but returned in December where the 28th Company L stationed in a brigade line of battle was in a dense cedar forest. For two days there was skirmishing with the Federals and on the 31st the brigade attacked. The 27th Regiment was immediately swept into winter quarters.

January 2 they fought again to protect their own artillery. This was after crossing the river and being recalled to go over the river the second time that day and go into immediate attack.

That spring they moved to Lewisburg, Tenn., where in a march drill of companies of Walthall's Brigade on May 25, 1863, Company L, under command of Lt. William Welch took first honors. Most welcome to the men was the prize of 90 days' exemption from duty. Lieutenant Welch's big prize, however, was to come back at the end of the war as the only surviving officer.

Following their three months of rest, Company L, on September 18, heroically fought at the Battle of Chickamauga. Part of their success was the 27th Regiment's capture of 400 United States regulars and a battery. Part of their trouble was being outflanked the next day by U. S. Gen. George Thomas, moving several miles and fighting on the Chattanooga Road.

Greatest defeat for Company L was in "the battle of the clouds" or on top of Lookout Mountain, where as most all tourists know, you can look right down into the city of Chattanooga. In this hard to understand fight they were in regiment line of battle when they were attacked with the enemy "seeming to force everything before them as though there was no resistance." After delivering two volleys, the defending line in front of them broke, and great numbers of Federal troops flanked them causing in Company L the wounding, capture and within a week the death of Lt. Samuel where walking was a necessity. On September 10, he was given a "furlough" and advised to go home to Pascagoula if he could.

Travel at that time was most difficult throughout the South and was ravaged or destroyed bridges, railroads, vehicles, animals, etc. For wounded man, needing rest and care it took months — four for Pvt. Joseph H. Krebs.

While he was slowly trying to go west and south to the Gulf, the remnant of Company L and the 27th Regiment went north to Resaca once more and taking casualties (James Simmon killed) at Snake's Creep Gap on October 12, then to Florence, Ala. early in November; to the terrible slaughter at Franklin, Tenn., on November 30, where Brantley's Brigade was no stronger than a single regiment, yet in that night battle in the trenches lost 76 killed, 14 wounded, and 21 missing. On to Nashville they moved, repulsing Federal attack December 15, but being forced to join in Gen. Hood's retreat out of Tennessee and to Tupelo, Miss. December 26 — the first time Company L had been able to get even into this most northern section of their home state in almost three years. The men of Company L were given a 15-day furlough at Meridian to visit their homes in Jackson County.

At this time back home the Union Army was making an attack toward Mobile from Pascagoula and had reached Franklin Creek on the Alabama line.
